Russia, China Together Will Bury Capitalism—Nikita

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared tonight that when the time comes for communism to bury capitalism, the Soviet Union and Communist China together will throw in the last spadeful of earth.

Krushchev told correspondents across a table at a reception given by the King of Laos that cooperation between Communist China and the Soviet Union is old, is continuing, and will continue.

"When the last spadeful of earth is thrown on the grave of capitalism," the premier said, after a warm handshake with the new Chinese ambassador, "we will do it together with China."

It was all staged as a lightning quick performance to discredit stories that the two have reached such a bad point in their relations that a break could be imminent.

The demonstration took place before one of the biggest diplomatic receptions held in this city in several months. It was given by King Savang Vathana of Laos in the Hotel Sovietskaya. The monarch is near the conclusion of a visit in the Soviet Union, the first country on a tour. The trip will take him to the nations which signed the accord under which Laos was made neutral and fighting ended in his country. He is due in Washington late this month.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, noting that Khrushchev was talking to correspondents across a table, brought up the new Chinese ambassador, Pan Tzu-li, and Khrushchev promptly made a show of it.

"This is the Chinese ambassador," he said, shaking the

COOL WITH COOLER

A hill and muddy terrain prevented a crane from getting close enough to the Terra Linda Valley Hospital, under construction at Montecillo Road and Nova Albion Way, so a helicopter was called into service to lift 12 air conditioning units to the site Wednesday. It took a cool-headed pilot. Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, administrator, and Dr. Frank A. Lowe, president of the new hospital said the operation made them nervous.

40-Cent Commuting Service Called Possible For Marin

By WAT TAKESHITA

Public bus transportation between Marin and San Francisco at about 40 cents a ride is within the realm of possibility, two San Francisco engineers told a Marin group last night.

Israel Gilboa and James W. Meyer of De Leuw, Cather and Co. spoke before the Marin Council for Civic Affairs on metropolitan problems at the Civic Center. De Leuw, Cather and Co. helped set up the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, which provides commute service into San Francisco at 40 cents and local rides at 25 cents.

Harold Stockstad of Mill Valley, chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, posed this question to two directors of the Golden Gate Bridge District who attended the meeting:

How about using some of the Golden Gate Bridge District profits to subsidize bus service between Marin and San Francisco?

Director Leland Murphy of Inverness said he doubts Marin commuters can be induced to ride buses.

Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, the other bridge director from Marin, acknowledged that "the feeling on the bridge board is that no matter what we do, we can't induce drivers to use buses." However, Hardcastle himself is interesting in pushing studies on the feasibility of subsidizing buses in Marin.

Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the Civic Affairs Council's committee on metropolitan problems, presided at last night's two-hour meeting.

She announced that the next meeting of the committee will explore devices by which a bus operation could be set up in Marin. It is tentatively set for March 6. She hopes to invite as guest speaker Robert Nesbit, attorney for the Ala-

RAFFERTY, BOARD CLASH OVER BOOKS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, says he may ask the attorney general to decide future stalemates between himself and the State Board of Education.

Rafferty clashed with the board yesterday over his recent statement that the department favored legislation giving local school districts a choice of textbooks.

Board members Nathanial Colley and Dorman Commons said this was a board, not a department, policy matter.

Rafferty said in the future he would submit his recommendation to the board. But if he disagreed with its action he would take a separate stand.

If need be, he would submit the matters to the state attorney general, Rafferty said.

In other actions, the board:

Adopted the last in the current set of new texts and named a four-member committee to study controversial cost formulas governing adoptions.

Wrote into the California Administrative Code a condensed version of its policy statement opposing racial segregation.

Re-elected Oceanside publisher Thomas W. Braden as president and Raymond J. Daba, Atherton attorney, as vice president.

Appointed a committee headed by board member William A. Norris of Pasadena to find means to streamline the State Department of Education.

Criticized a letter Rafferty is purported to have sent to Mrs. Adele M. Smith of the Institute of International Education in San Francisco.

It reportedly told her his department had neither the time nor funds to entertain foreign visitors. The board directed Rafferty to modify his policy and accept a limited number of visits from foreign guests.

$4-Million Bond Issue Is Backed

A citizen committee last night recommended that the San Rafael Board of Education call an election on a four-million-dollar bond issue for elementary schools and a 50-cent hike in the ceiling on the high school tax rate.

The San Rafael Schools Committee on Finance and Educational Facilities acted with a bare quorum of 21 of its 41 members present at a meeting at the school administration building.

The committee proposed the bond issue to be presented to the voters in two parts: approximately $3,300,000 for additions to present schools, buying new sites and building two new schools, and approximately $700,000 for multi-purpose rooms at nine schools.

The 50-cent hike in the high school operating tax rate limit, from the present $1.25 to $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation, would be for an indefinite period. The committee made plain that it did not expect the board of education to levy a $1.75 tax next year but felt this rate might be needed withing three to five years.

Total tax rate of the San Rafael High School District this year is $1.77. This includes 39 cents for bond retirement plus levies for retirement funds, disability insurance, community services and education of the mentally retarded, which are in addition to the general purpose operating tax.

Vote on the $3,300,000 bond issue proposal was 10 to 2. The multi-purpose room bond issue proposal and the tax ceiling increase both won unanimous approval.

Dissenters on the major bond issue proposal, Harold E. Schioldager and Bryce W. Anderson, both said they voted "no" because of insufficient information on some of the projects proposed to be financed from the issue. A motion by Anderson to refer the proposal back to the finance and sites sub-

Brown Trumpets Glories Of State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today trumpeted the glories of California —"the largest of the 50 states" —and jabbed at the governor of "the second-ranking state," New York's Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Obviously in a mood for crowing, Democrat Brown told a National Press Club luncheon that he welcomed the chance "to tell you how California took the lead and why it deserved to do so"—and make comparisons with New York.

"We have grown in California because of a pioneering attitude which accepts those customs which are good and useful and rejects those which are mere cliches," said Brown, in his prepared address, and added:

"We do not judge policies or ideas by the labels conservative or liberal; but by whether they make good sense and promote the general welfare."

Brown noted that he had warm regard for Republican Rockefeller and remarked in a light rap at former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his unsuccessful challenger in last year's gubernatorial election that "I often wished during the recent campaign that I had been debating the problems of state government with a man of the experience and convictions of Governor Rickefeller."

Brown contended that no single public or private policy accounted for California's success "but there are at least three areas in which our programs differ sharply from those of New York which we believe have promoted prosperity."

One, he declared, dealt with public borrowing. Brown said Rockefeller claimed in his budget message last month that he had avoided public borrowing and by so doing had maintained fiscal responsibility.

The Californian said he, too, is against borrowing to meet current expenses "but I cannot accept his blanket indictment of borrowing because sound bond issues have proved a key factor in California's growth."

Brown declared he also disagreed with Rockefeller on a second point — Rockefeller's urging that local and state governments do more for themselves instead of turning to the federal government. "The key is not the source of funds," said Brown, "but the vigor and efficiency of the government which provides the services."

Brown said that he agrees with Rockefeller on the need for federal tax reforms but not on his method. Rockefeller, he said, has called for reforms to free more capital for plant expansion, which Brown claimed was not enough to do the job. He said he gave his wholehearted support to President Kennedy's tax program.

Threat Hanging Over Marin's Young GOP

Marin's eight-man delegation to the Young Republicans annual convention goes to Fresno tonight with the threat of a challenge hanging over its head.

The delegates, who face a law suit in Marin over the legality of their election last month (see today's editorial), may be challenged at Fresno as to legality of the delegation being seated in the convention.

Ronald Garver of Los Angeles, John Birch Society member and a candidate for the Young Republicans presidency, charged in Fresno that the Marin election was "rigged" for a "liberal takeover" (see story page 5).

Donald Black of San Rafael, newly elected Marin president, declared the procedure adopted at the Jan. 15 election was "agreed to by all interested candidates" prior to the election. He said he does not expect the delegation to vote as a unit for any candidate.

Charles Michals of Kentfield, outgoing president, said Garver's statement was "just warmed-over from a press release of a week or 10 days ago."

John Clow of Mill Valley, state treasurer who will be sitting in with the credentials committee starting tonight at 10 o'clock, said if a challenge comes, it most likely will be made by John Gromala of Eureka, regional vice president. Gromala was present at the Marin election last month.

In San Rafael today, Judge Harold Haley approved a three-week continuance of the hearing of the law suit, brought by three Republicans to throw out the election.

Frenchman Gets Funds For Family

Thanks to an anonymous San Rafael businessman whose generosity was moved by last night by an Independent-Journal feature story, Paul Amouraux's 16-month separation from his wife and two youngsters will soon be over.

The 28-year-old house painter, who left his family behind in France when he came to America seeking opportunity, had hoped to raise enough money sooner than this to bring the family here.

He has been working as a boat painter for Marine Repair fulltime, part time for Marine Woodworks and doing part time gardening. But yesterday's I-J story said he was still $640 short of the funds needed to pay for plane fair for his wife, son 6, and daughter 4.

A San Rafael businessman who read the story last night, contacted Robert Schafer of Marine Woodworks this morning and said he would put up the $640 as a loan. Amouraux may pay it back as convenient and there will be no interest.

"Paul is walking around here on cloud nine," Schafer said today. "All he can do is wear a big grin."

Schafer said he would contact a travel agency today and try to make arrangements for Mrs. Amouraux and her children to fly to San Francisco International Airport as soon as possible.

The earliest she could arrive would be sometime tomorrow, Schafer said.

Engineers Out Of Plan For School

The San Rafael engineering firm of Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton today dissociated itself from a proposal by Space Utilization Analysts of Los Angeles to prepare plans for remodeling San Rafael High School.

Walter C. Jacobs, president of the Los Angeles firm, told the San Rafael Board of Education by letter that, if his company were hired to make an analysis of space at the school, it could carry through with plans for remodeling. These, he wrote, would be done in association with Whitlow, Hoffman and Allbritton for a fee of 4½ per cent of the contract price.

Questioned regarding this at Tuesday's board of education meeting, Jacobs said Whitlow, Hoffman and Allbritton "or any other local engineering firm could be used.

Beverly Whitlow of the engineering firm today declared that (1) "at no time did we make any agreement with Jacobs"; (2) "we are not trying to get into the architectural field," and (3) no mention of a 4½ per cent rate was made in a brief telephone conversation which Whitlow said was his only communication with Jacobs."

S.P. Tunnel Fire Speeded By Big Fans

CHATSWORTH (AP) — Firemen have wheeled two big fans to the entrance of a blazing railroad tunnel to speed the fire in burning itself out.

The interior of the Southern Pacific tunnel was filled with smoke when a freight train plunged into it early yesterday. The engineer kept his throttle open and the train came through unscathed.

The 925-foot tunnel through the Santa Susana Mountains is shored with 12x12 timbers. It is one of three cut through the mountains in 1904.

Traffic on the S. P.'s main Los Angeles— San Francisco Coast route was halted. Trains were detoured through Santa Paula on a roundabout bypass which requires two to four hours.

S. P. said its Coast Daylight would be out of service an indefinite period. But the Larks, operated at night over the bypass route, will continue to run.

A spokesman explained the Larks move with the prevailing traffic while the Daylights operate against the traffic flow and can't be scheduled over the slow branch line detour.

U.S. Ready To Reply To Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is expected to reply within a few days to a Soviet proposal for resumption of Berlin negotiations, diplomatic sources said today.

It is possible, they said, that the Kennedy administration will agree to further "exploratory" talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin but no definite decision has been reached. Soviet-American talks on the perennial Berlin issue were interrupted by the Cuban missile crisis, and President John F. Kennedy has been in no hurry to resume them.

The state department has sounded out its principle allies —Britain, France and West Germany—for reaction to the new Soviet bid for Berlin talks.

The Russian proposal that Rusk and Dobrynin take up the subject again was brought to Washington earlier this month by U.S. Ambassador to Moscow Foy D. Kohler.

The ambassador, called home for consultations, returned to Moscow yesterday.

New British Labor Leader Is Foe Of A-Arms, Polaris

LONDON (AP)—Harold Wilson, the youngest Labor party leader in British history and possibly the next prime minister, wants Britain to get rid of its nuclear arms and abandon the Polaris missile agreement with the United States.

In a television interview following his election to the party leadership last night, Wilson said nuclear arms should be confined to the United States and the Soviet Union.

As the party leader Wilson will become prime minister if Labor wins the general election which Prime Minister Harold Macmillan must hold by October, 1964. Recent opinion polls have given the Laborites a clear edge over Macmillan's conservatives.

Wilson, 46, a leftist intellectual and Labor's foreign affairs expert, won the party leadership over George Brown, the more conservative deputy party leader. A second challenger, James Callaghan, was eliminated in the first ballot last week.

Wilson defeated Brown 144-103 in a secret ballot of the Labor members of the House of Commons. Two legislators did not vote.

Wilson served notice immediately that he favors negotiations for an orderly withdrawal from the Nassau agreement Macmillan and President John F. Kennedy made to supply Polaris missiles for British submarines.

"As long as there are nuclear submarines in the world they should be held, as far as the West is concerned, by the United States and by the Soviet Union," Wilson said.

He also said that he would like to see the U.S. Polaris submarine base at Holy Loch, and other such bases, taken out of the present American-British framework and put under the wing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Wilson insisted that Labor rejects neutralism and intends to give firm support to the Western alliance.

Castro Offers Asylum To Reds Who Seized Venezuelan Freighter

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Fidel Castro's regime offered asylum today to Communist hijackers of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui as Venezuelan destroyers and jet bombers hunted the fugitive vessel across the Caribbean.

The 3,127-ton freighter was believed heading for the Cuban port of Santiago, on the island's southeast coast.

Three Venezuelan destroyers were reported on the track of the captive ship. But if its position was known, it was kept secret by Venezuelan authorities.

The Castro government, in a statement broadcast by Havana Radio, said if the ship arrived at any Cuban port, "the revolutionary government will grant asylum to Venezuelan revolutionaries and members of the crew who solicit such."

The broadcast said the ship and the rest of the crew would be turned over to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

Reliable sources said U.S. Navy planes spotted the freighter yesterday midway between Venezuela and the Dominican Republic. Shipping circles in Caracas said the motorship Sucre later reported sighting the Anzoategui in about the same position.

President Romulo Betancourt ordered an all-out effort to intercept the hijackers, identified as nine members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation, a Communist organization with links to Fidel Castro's regime.

Six Arrested In Plot To Kill De Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—Six high-ranking army officers were arrested early today, and accused of plotting to kill President Charles de Gaulle. It was the fourth assassination plot reported against the president in 17 months.

Police reports said the officers planned to kill the 72-year-old chief of state with a rifle fitted with a telescopic sight when he visited a military school this morning.

Some unconfirmed reports said one or more generals were among those arrested and that one officer detained was on the official reception committee for the president's visit. De Gaulle visited the school on schedule.

A French woman who taught English at the school also was arrested.

The Interior Ministry refused to issue any detailed information, but details began leaking out from unofficial sources as the investigation went into high gear.

A reinforced security guard was on duty at the school—on the Left Bank of the Seine in the shadow of the Eiffel Tower—when de Gaulle made his visit.

RUSS TURNS DOWN 'HOT LINE' PLAN

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today turned down President John F. Kennedy's plan to guard against accidental war which included a "hot line" direct telephone link between the White House and the Kremlin.

At the same time, chief Soviet delegate Vassili V. Kuznetsov gave the 17-nation disarmament conference a take-it-or-leave-it choice of accepting the Kremlin's terms for a nuclear test ban or risk getting no treaty at all.

The proposal to guard against the start of war by accident was emphasized in a message Kennedy sent to the conference Tuesday.

The Kennedy proposal would set up special observation teams, establish instant White-House-to-Kremlin communication and carry through other measures designed to prevent war by "accident, miscalculation or failure of communication."

Kuznetsov said the plan would make espionage easy. He also told the conference that Russia insists on acceptance of its terms for such key treaty points as the number of on-site inspections for policing any ban agreed upon here.

He coupled his take-it-or-leave-it test ban offer with another call for the conference to adopt his declaration opposing foreign nuclear forces.

The White House was designed by James Hoban, an Irish-born architect, in a competition for $500 total awards.

Kennedy Sees Downturn If Taxes Not Cut Promptly

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy says U.S. economy "will inevitably move into a downturn"—perhaps this year—if Congress doesn't act promptly to cut taxes.

Kennedy told his news conference yesterday the congressional battle over tax legislation will be "a hard fight." But he was optimistic about getting an acceptable bill by the end of the session.

"We are going to get a bill for a tax reduction which will provide a consensus," Kennedy forecast. "It won't be perhaps the bill we sent up, but I think it will be a good bill."

The United States is doing more than the Europeans to defend Europe and intends to maintain its present combat strength there. However, troops will be withdrawn if they wear out their welcome — though Kennedy sees no sign of that.

He definitely plans no economic or political reprisals against President Charles de Gaulle of France who shook the Western alliance by quashing British entry into the European Common Market and by spurning U.S. proposals for a multination nuclear force in Europe.

In remarks directed both at his Republican critics at home —specifically Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York—and friendly nations abroad, Kennedy said: "It is a mistake always to assume that the United States is wrong, and that by being disagreeable to the United States, it is always possible to compel the United States to succumb.

The questioning centered repeatedly on Europe and the newly evident cracks in the Western alliance.

Time and again, Kennedy said U.S. troops are in Europe primarily to help the Europeans defend themselves. And he emphasized the enormous financial burdens accepted by Americans toward that end.

Repeatedly, too, he argued the United States has a sincere desire to find some way, through new devices if necessary, to give Europe a stronger voice in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

On other topics, Kennedy:

Said the Western allies have not decided whether it would be fruitful to resume exploratory talks aimed at a possible Berlin settlement.

Expressed full faith in the qualifications of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., his choice to be undersecretary of commerce. The nomination has been the target of Republican criticism. "They questioned the qualifications of his father to be president," said Kennedy.

When reminded that he questioned the U.S. image abroad during the 1960 presidential campaign, said he would want to wait and "get clearer ideas in the next two years" before deciding how U.S. prestige has fared since then.

Challenged Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other Republicans to offer alternatives for administration foreign policies they criticize.

Kennedy said he shares the suspicion that the New York governor wants to be the Republican candidate against him in next year's presidential election.

Mentioned polls by the U.S. Information Agency the results of which indicate Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is unpopular in Latin America. The poll indicates that many rural people have never even heard of Castro.

Kennedy saw subversion — both from Cuba and from local Communists unconnected with Castro — as the biggest threat to the Americas, more serious than the military build-up in Cuba.

U.S. Information Agency officials said today:

1. One survey taken in a Latin-American country late year after the Cuban crisis showed 45 per cent of the campesinos — country folk — were unable to identify Castro.

2. Of those in this survey who had heard of Castro, 63 per cent had a poor opinion of him.

3. In a series of polls in seven Latin-American nations over a two-year period Castro never got endorsement from more than 15 per cent of the people polled.

4. In the same countries more than 50 per cent of those polled expressed a bad, or very bad, opinion of Castro.

5. In two Latin-American cities polls showed the ratio of unfavorable opinion toward Castro, as against favorable opinion, tripled between 1961 and late 1962.

APARTMENT PLAN ARGUMENTS DUE

Two familiar and unresolved controversies will face the Marin County Planning Commission again Monday.

First item on the commission's 9 a.m. agenda will be a public hearing on the proposed development of nearly 700 apartments in Marinwood on Miller Creek Road near Highway 101.

Several Marinwood organizations have declared they will oppose the apartments because of the alleged high density proposed by the developers, headed by D. M. Christensen Co. of San Rafael.

Marinwood Assn. president Guy E. Baty said in a report from a meeting of the association board of directors this week:

"In spite of concerted efforts by the developers to convince us otherwise, Marinwood residents appear unanimous in their opposition to the high density development . . . which would materially affect and alter the character of our community."

The Marinwood Community Services District board has announced its intention to ask the commission to keep in mind original master plan requirements for low density development.

The last item on the agenda will be an application from Drakes Beach Estates Inc. for architectural supervision of two 12-unit apartment building on Drakes Bay, within the boundaries of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

A use permit for the apartments was granted before the seashore was approved by Congress. Developers have maintained that no construction should be blocked until land is actually purchased by the federal government.

Other agenda items will include a request for a use permit by Timothy Egan, to build a one-story, 81-bed addition to the Rafael Convalescent Hospital at 234 North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia; a request from Robert M. Wineman to build a small boat harbor on San Antonio Creek north of Novato, and a request from Coast Springs Water Co. to install two water tanks at Dillon's Beach.

Terra Linda Rec Delays Annexation

Any Terra Linda homeowners who are not already within the boundaries of the Terra Linda Recreation District will have to wait until July if they want to join the district, directors decided Wednesday.

The district board agreed that it should wait until the new swimming pool has been in operation for a full season before considering any annexations to the district. Some sections of Terra Linda, including Terra Linda Valley Unit No. 3, which is within the San Rafael city limits, have asked to be annexed to the district.

Directors said they want to be certain that facilities are not overcrowded before letting any new residents into the district. The pool was first opened last July 4. A full fiscal year of district operation will end on June 30.

The board set the date for the opening of the pool this year for May 1.

In addition to a delay in annexation considerations, the board stated that any residential areas in the City of San Rafael should rely on city recreation facilities, rather than seeking use of district facilities.

The 1963 Terra Linda Art Festival, previously sponsored by parent-teacher organizations, will be sponsored this year by the district. Chairman Jack Brandon will appoint a festival committee.

Directors also authorized Recreation Director Richard Conzelman to attend the state conference of park and recreation directors in San Diego tomorrow through next Wednesday. Conzelman is president of the association's Golden Gate District.

Communication With Syncom Is Lost

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Tracking stations around the world searched the skies today for America's lost Syncom satellite.

The 150-pound Syncom was hurled into space aboard a three-stage Delta rocket yesterday to test a brand-new technique of radio and telephone communications via orbiting satellites.

The moonlet climbed to an altitude of about 22,300 miles and the edge of success—and disappeared. That was about five hours after it was launched.

Syncom hasn't been heard from since.

Scientists had hoped to put Symcom in an orbit so high that it would appear to hover in virtually one spot in the sky. This required installing the satellite in orbit 22,300 miles up, where its forward speed would match earth's rotation speed.

No one is sure what happened. There were two leading possibilities:

That Syncom reached its planned orbit all right, but suffered some sort of damage that left it mute, unable to answer calls from earth.

That the satellite did not remain at the 22,300-mile altitude as planned, but instead embarked on a wildly elliptical course ranging from a hundred miles or so to several thousand miles above earth.

The experts leaned toward the latter possibility as the most likely. Ground stations around the globe trained radio and radar gear toward the sky in the search. But by early today, they had drawn a blank.

Among the stations taking part in the Syncom hunt was the Kingsport, an anchor in Lagos harbor, Nigeria, to serve as the African link in communications experiments planned for the satellite. The second station was at Lakehurst, N.J.

Scientists believed the key to Syncom's fate was wrapped up in a small rocket motor attached to the satellite itself. This rocket was to have fired at the 22,300-mile level to put the moonlet in its unique orbit.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Consumers were able to buy their 1962 food requirements for only 19 cents of their after-tax income dollar, compared with 26 cents in 1947-49.

Mrs. Kroeger Livens Up Courtroom Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A San Francisco superior courtroom that had perhaps its noisiest St. Valentine's Day on record, was quiet today.

Mrs. Iva Kroeger, on trial with her husband, Ralph, for the murders of an elderly couple yesterday:

Angrily declared 17 prosecution witnesses were liars;

Called the chief assistant district attorney "nuttier than a fruitcake at Christmastime;"

Made a mad dash from the stand in an unsuccessful attempt to get her hands on a motel deed;

And used the witnesses' microphone to drown out all opposition, including Judge Harry J. Neubarth.

"Isn't it a fact that you and your husband killed Mrs. Mildred Arneson in your house on Ellington Avenue on Dec. 15 and buried her in the basement?" asked Francis Mayer, chief assistant district attorney.

"You are the biggest liar God ever put breath in," shot back Mrs. Kroeger. "And she's in Brazil."

Mrs. Kroeger said that Jay Arneson was also in Brazil. The Arnesons' bodies were found buried in the Kroeger basement garage last August by police.

Mayer showed the 44-year-old grandmother a deed dated Dec. 15, 1961 which gave ownership of a Santa Rosa motel to Mrs. Kroeger. The motel was the alleged motive for the slayings.

Mrs. Kroeger had claimed minutes before that she had paid Mrs. Arneson $3,000 for the motel Dec. 16.

At first, the defendant wouldn't give back the deed to Mayer. But a bailiff wrested it away from her and placed it on the prosecution table.

In a lightning move, Mrs. Kroeger jumped from the stand, took three leaping steps and was almost at the table when a woman bailiff intercepted her.

"That belongs to me," she shouted. "What's mine is mine."

The jury was quickly sent into chambers and wasn't recalled until the accused quited.

The trial was recessed until Monday. Mrs. Kroeger has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. Her husband has pleaded innocent.

Some 4,700,000 business enterprises in the nation provide a livelihood for almost 50 million employees and proprietors.

I.D. Chapman Gets Award From Kiwanis

Irving D. Chapman, San Rafael shoe store owner and foreman of the 1962 Marin County Grand Jury, yesterday received the San Rafael Kiwanis Club's "Outstanding Community Service" award.

The award was made for Chapman's "outstanding devotion and unselfish donation of his time and effort whenever called upon for the betterment of the community."

The award was made at yesterday's Kiwanis Club meeting by past Lt. Gov. Harold Keaton.

Chapman, who lives at 330 G Street, San Rafael, is a past president of the 20-30 Club and the junior chamber of commerce, a former member of the board of the chamber of commerce, United Fund, planning commission, chamber of commerce merchants committee, and vice president of the chamber of commerce.

Town Employees Look At Insurance

A membership meeting of the Town of Corte Madera Employees Assn. last night heard suggestions for group insurance discussed by Harry Duncan of Belvedere, consultant for group insurance plans.

Duncan said he had represented employees of utilities and other large firms in setting up group insurance plans. About a dozen of the town's 25 employees attended the meeting in the town council meeting room led by George Paraspolo, president.

The members took the insurance ideas under advisement for further consideration at their March 14 meeting.

Former Mayor Nock Under Observation

Former San Rafael Mayor William S. Nock, 67, collapsed at his realty office in the Albert Building yesterday afternoon and was rushed to San Rafael General Hospital where he was under observation today.

His doctor reported it appeared to be only a fainting spell. No evidence of a heart attack has been discovered. "He'll be back in circulation soon," the doctor said.

8 MILLION POPULATION RISE IN U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The population of the United States has risen by nearly 8 million since the 1960 census to an estimated total last Jan. 1 of 187,293,000, the Commerce Department's Census Bureau said today.

The bureau said the figures does not include U. S. servicemen stationed abroad. It represents an increase of 7,970,000, or 4.4 per cent, over the figure for April 1, 1960, the announcement said.

The number of U. S. servicemen abroad was figured at 769,000.

The Jan. 1 figure represented an increase of 2,738,000 over the same date a year ago.

man's hand while he held his arm with the other.

The ambassador grinned widely, and returned the handshake enthusiastically.

"Friendship and cooperation," said Khrushchev.

"Is this the beginning?" asked a newsman.

"No," replied Khrushchev, "our cooperation has been going on a long time. It is continuing and it will continue."

By this time a mass of the 1,000 or more guests pushed around him, while ambassadors, the king and his premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, leaned forward trying to hear from the other side of the table.

When a correspondent — all those asking questions were Western correspondents —asked him if he planned a meeting with Mao Tze-tung, the party leader in China, Khrushchev waved aside the question with a sweep of his hand. He backed away from the table, and said, "This is not a press conference. I am here as a guest of the King of Laos and have no right to be giving a press conference."

(Khrushchev has frequently used cocktail party chatter with Western journalists to put across views he wants publicized in the West but not at home.

(None of these talks, many of which have made major news, have ever been referred to in any Soviet bloc or Chinese Communist paper.

(It seemed likely, therefore, that his public reconciliation with the Chinese was intended primarily for Western consumption.)

Bolinas Fire Unit Backing Peters

Bolinas Fire Protection District commissioners last night agreed to ask the county board of supervisors to appoint Manuel S. Peters to fill the unexpired term of Charles F. Cahill, who has moved to San Rafael.

Peters, who runs Peters Dairy in Bolinas, was the sole person to file for the office. If appointed by the supervisors, he will serve a regular three-year term after filling the unexpired term of Cahill through June.

Cahill's letter of resignation was accepted officially last night.

Two Motorists Hurt In Crashes

Two motorists in Marin County yesterday suffered minor injuries in accidents in Woodacre and Greenbrae, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Edward John Johansson, 32, of Point Reyes Station, was to see a private doctor for treatment of a bruised and cut left ear suffered when his car collided with one driven by Lawrence Ramatici, 30, of Lagunitas, at Crescent Drive and Oak Grove Avenue in Woodacre at 7:40 a.m.

Laura Hazel Crossley, 37, of 45 Tamal Vista Drive, Corte Madera, suffered abrasions when her car hit the rear end of one slowing down at the northbound Greenbrae turnoff from Highway 101 to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 5:55 p.m. The other car was driven by Jill Carol Taylor, 18, of Orinda.

Two Drunken Drivers Fined

Two drunken drivers were fined $166 each and drew six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Wayne Williams Parsons, 52, of San Francisco and Anita Ann Drayton, 52, of Daly City. For the next three months, they may drive only for work.

Parsons was arrested on Feb. 2 and Mrs. Drayton last Aug. 25, both on Highway 101. Drayton had two prior drunken driving convictions, in 1945 and 1946, but both were stricken from the record.

Mill Valleyan To Answer Fight Charge

A Mill Valley auditor, suspected of attacking a Greyhound bus driver in an argument over a commute ticket, faces assault and battery charges in Marin Municipal Court.

Kalir O. Shannon, 29, of 424 West Blithedale Avenue was jailed Wednesday night on a complaint by bus driver Robert Allen Schneider. He was to appear in court today to answer charges of assault, battery, and disturbing the peace. Shannon is free on $472.50 bail.

Mill Valley police said the fight took place at the bus depot in Mill Valley about 10:33 p.m. The bus driver said Shannon hit him in the face, bit him on the side of his face and almost bit off his right thumb.

Shannon told police Schneider refused to take his bus ticket in San Francisco because it was detached from his commute book.

Shannon contended the bus driver called him names and struck him, police said.

Retirement Plan Proposed In Ross

The Ross Town Council heard last night that a proposed state retirement plan for city employees would raise the current tax rate of $1.15 per $100 of assessed valuation eight cents to $1.23.

The estimate was made by Councilman Russell G. Smith, finance committee chairman. The council continued its public hearing on the proposal to March 14.

Since the January meeting of the council, when the plan was first presented, city employees have voted unanimously in favor of being included under the state retirement plan.

City Engineer John C. Oglesby was directed last night to make a cost estimate on controlling flooding on Allen Avenue, Laurel Grove Avenue, and in Winship Park.

Loan Firm Completes Stock Sale

The Marin County Financial Corp., San Rafael, has announced completion of the sale of all newly issued stock registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and offered to the public last November.

The time limit authorized by the commission for sale of the 27,790 new issue shares has now expired.

Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president, said the sale accomplished its planned purpose by providing 250 new stockholders with a proprietary interest in the corporation and its solely owned subsidiary Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., and increasing its reserves. Most of the purchases were made by Marin County residents and many of them by small investors, he commented.

A portion of the stock registered with the commission by existing stockholders has also been sold, Enemark said. Shareholders who wish to add to their holdings or reduce their holdings may continue to negotiate transfers among themselves without restriction.

Shares were registered by the corporation and stockholders last May. The shares ($1 par value) were offered to the public at $14 per share.

Greenbrae Assn. Membership Up

Membership in the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. rose to 465 in 1962, a gain of nearly 50, William G. Fleckles, president, said in a report to the group's annual membership meeting last night.

Nine residents were elected to the board at the meeting in the Greenbrae School multi-use room.

The nine, with one exception, were the nominees of the directors' nominating committee reported in Wednesday's Independent-Journal. Robert Miller was nominated and elected when Mrs. Raymond Wold dropped out. The committee said nominees were selected to represent all sections of Greenbrae. Members were invited to add nominees from the floor but none were forthcoming.

The new directors will hold their first meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Greenbrae Co. real estate office on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to elect a new president, vice president, treasurer, recording secretary and corresponding secretary.

Planners Deny Apartment Units

Sausalito planning commissioners Wednesday denied Heath Land Co. of Mill Valley a use permit to build a two-million-dollar apartment house in Marinship.

The vote was 4-3, those voting to deny saying the development was too intense and that the applicant plans to build units 1,300 square feet in size when the commission favors 1,500 square feet per apartment.

The 114-unit project, which would extend over the water, would be the first to be built in Marinship. Mel Wax, chairman, said the firm announced it will appeal the denial to city council.

Mosquitoes Lost Ground During 1962

Mosquitoes lost some ground last year in their running battle with man, according to the annual report of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District presented last night to the board of trustees.

Manager G. Paul Jones reported that the mosquito population was kept fairly low during 1962, except in the Tiburon-Belvedere area.

Salt marsh mosquitoes were controlled mainly by aircraft, although small areas in Mill Valley, San Rafael, Santa Venetia and Black Point were controlled by hand labor.

Jones said the most effective spray was parathion, which has high percentage kill and low toxicity to fish and wildlife.

"Fresh water mosquito was not as bothersome as in some past years, but street catch basins produced more house mosquitoes than in previous years.

SUSAN HAS A LITTLE LAMB

A little girl whose name isn't Mary has a little lamb that followed her to school, sort of. Actually, the lamb, Pinky, 5 days old, didn't follow Susan LaValley to school—it came in the family car. Susan eyes her teacher while giving her attention to Pinky's milk feeding in her North Adams, Mass., classroom. Pinky just couldn't wait for lunch period yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Pat's Day Dinner Planned By Red Men

Tamal Tribe No. 288 of San Rafael, Improved Order of Red Men, and the Genessee Council of Pocahontas jointly will hold a St. Patrick's Day dinner on March 15 at Portuguese Hall on B Street, San Rafael.

At a recent tribe meeting two new members, Daniel Mulcahy and Leland Domstad, were initiated into the organization.

Young GOP Is Due Bircher Showdown

FRESNO (AP) — California Young Republicans, split wide open by the John Birch Society issue, gathered today for a state convention showdown between so-called moderates and conservatives.

Police were called during an uproarious session at Anaheim last year.

Everyone expects another donnybrook this weekend over charges of an asserted move by Birchers or pro-Birchers to take over the group.

Outgoing President Harry J. Keaton of Los Angeles has declared repeatedly that adherents of the ultra-right-wing society are out to seize control of the GOP's junior branch.

Keaton, a 37-year-old attorney, was repudiated recently by Los Angeles County delegates when they voted to "censure" him on grounds of irresponsible action.

Opponents accused Keaton of publicly voicing "vague, unsubstantiated charges" against fellow Republicans.

The president had told a news conference that the paid staff of the Birch Society has engaged in a large-scale organization.

He said the society was backing Robert Gaston of La Canada and Ronald Garver of Pasadena for president. Keaton called Garver an admitted Birch member.

A third candidate, Kenneth Davis of Pasadena, is listed as a moderate. Charles Crozier of Westwood, Los Angeles County president, predicts most of his unit's 58 delegates will support Gaston. About 350 statewide delegates will decide the embattled election.

Garver has termed it a "complete falsehood" that all conservative members were "manipulated or controlled by the dictates of the John Birch Society."

He charged in turn that a recent election in Marin County was rigged for a liberal takeover "with the expressed purpose of throwing those votes to Keaton's endorsed candidate."

Keaton says he's not supporting any candidate for state president.

Elections will take place sometime Sunday.

Closing Law For Sundays Looms Again

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature got notice today of a probable new effort to enact a Sunday closing law for California.

Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan (D-Santa Rosa) disclosed he probably will introduce a bill within two weeks to restrict Sunday sales.

"It would be a much broader measure than the one defeated two years ago," he said.

In 1961, a bill to halt the sale of automobiles on Sunday got through the Assembly but was killed in the Senate Committee on Transportation and Commerce. It was sponsored by Assemblyman Tom C. Carrell (D-San Fernando) an auto dealer himself.

Rattigan offered no details of his plan but indicated he is getting strong support from the California Retailers Assn.

California, he pointed out, is one of the few remaining states with practically no regulation of Sunday business. Rattigan said he favored some curtailment for two major reasons:

1. As the most populous state, California has reached the stage where a common day for rest and recreation appears necessary.

2. Many businessmen, faced with labor problems, want to close Sundays but don't because their competitors remain open.

Rattigan refused to speculate how a Sunday closing bill would be received other than that it would be controversial.

He noted, however, that since 1961 the U. S. Supreme Court has generally upheld the right of a state to close certain activities.

The slow-growing lichen is virtually indestructible. Some lichen colonies may be more than a thousand years old. Two distinct organisms, a fungus and an alga, combine to form the plant. Algae supply carbohydrates by photo-synthesis; fungi provide salts and water storage.

RAFFERTY SEEN GOP GOVERNOR HOPEFUL IN '66

SACRAMENTO (AP) — As two top Democrats see it, Max Rafferty, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be the Republican candidate for governor in 1966.

"I see no other possibility at this point," said Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) the senate president pro tem, praised Rafferty's energy and said he was impressed with his vote-getting ability.

Their comments came on the second of their weekly televised joint news conferences.

Chief Terzich Runs His Police Car Into Truck

Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich reported yesterday that he ran his police car into a milk truck Monday at Throckmorton and East Blithedale avenues when one of the three runaway Seattle girls he was transporting threatened to commit suicide.

Terzich said Helane McClymont, 18, had made the threat. About the same time he reached over to adjust the police radio, his car hit a Balzan Quality Milk truck, doing minor damage to the police car.

Miss McClymont was booked in county jail on suspicion of car theft and the other two girls, 17 and 16, were placed in juvenile hall. The girls had reportedly taken the 1962 Thunderbird from the 17-year-old's parents and headed for Mill Valley where they were arrested Monday morning.

Criticism Of Civil Rights Plan Answered

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Republican leader's criticism of Gov. Brown's civil rights program drew fire from a variety of sources yesterday.

Assembly Minority Leader Charles J. Conrad of Sherman Oaks said the pressure for the governor's program is "coming from the bureaucrats and the professional lobby groups, not from the people."

"There are already sufficient laws to give protection to any individual whose civil rights have been denied," Conrad said in a statement commenting on Brown's proposals.

Brown asked the legislature for a series of new laws, including expansion of the Fair Employment Practices Commission into a Human Rights Commission, with authority over housing as well as job opportunities.

Assembly Majority Leader Jerome Waldie of Antioch said he found it hard to believe that Conrad "can seriously contend in the face of facts of minority discrimination brought to our attention virtually every day, that the State of California has sufficient laws to safeguard the rights of minorities."

John Anson Ford of Los Angeles, chairman of the FEPC, said Brown's program "reflects his high moral sense and his insight into the real needs of minority Californians, as well as the practical problems of our spreading urban communities."

William Becker, secretary of the California Committee for Fair Practices, said Conrad, as minority leader, "should have a more definite understanding of what a minority is, that minorities do exist, in substantial numbers, and cannot be swept under the rug."

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) said he had anticipated Brown's main proposal by introducing a bill last month to extend the FEPC's power to housing.

Bagley said "the Republicans in this state are acutely aware of minority problems."

Brown's proposals got a cold shoulder from one important Democrat, Sen. Hugh M. Burns, (D-Fresno).

He told a news conference that any proposal to expand any state bureau such as FEPC, would face tough sledding, and that there had been "general agreement" with Governor Brown not to increase state expenditures this year.

If anyone called Nitro, W. Va., a "boom town," the residents might frown at the pun. But they really couldn't complain. For the city got its name from the explosives manufactured at a large federal plant there during World War I.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Industrial Section Turns Out To Be Good Spot For Restaurant

When you mention McKee's and give the address as 721 Lincoln Avenue Extension, San Rafael, there are some who complain they can't find one or the other. The industrial section doesn't seem to be the logical area for a restaurant so they turn back.

As to being logical, long before opening Jim and Bill McKee got figures on the customer potential and decided the location was "hot."

Good food prepared by Don Caseldine and served hof brau style, and a bar. All at a fair price, both lunch and dinner. It's nicely laid out, but you don't have to pay for frills when you don't feel like dressing up to match them.

NEW MENU at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club, besides a number of changes and additions on its complete dinner list, features "a la carte silver service" that's quite attractive. The carte includes roast Long Island duck, chateaubriand, rack of spring lamb, mixed grill—New England style and sole Valewska. Also several fine flaming desserts. You'll have to allow 45 minutes for service on the entrees.

Remember: Dinners at Peacock are on Saturday and Sunday only. Lunches throughout the week (except Monday) and a Sunday brunch which now has a child's portion. NOT exclusively for club members.

OPENING DATE set for the Hilltop in Novato is next Thursday. Don McLaughlin and Ted Duro had a little delay in the redecorating and wanted to get it right. It is located up the hill from Lamont Avenue just off the Redwood Highway.

INTERIOR remodeling at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon will take place soon, as soon as decorator Ted Duro finishes his work at the Hilltop. Present alteration plans include removing the chuck wagon counter not being used in the dining room.

The Colonel is holding a Valentine party tonight and tomorrow night. Gene Byrnes and his group are handling the music.

RESTORATION WORK at Deer Park Villa after last month's fire in the kitchen is far enough along, says Bob Ghiringhelli, to aim for a reopening on March 1. Party and banquet reservations may be made for after that date by calling the regular Deer Park telephone number.

GONZALES HACIENDA, comparatively new at 809 B Street, San Rafael, is undergoing interior remodeling, too, to make it more in character with the Mexican name and food.

LOU GANAPOLAR, manager at the Trident, Sausalito, tells me than since the Jean Hoffman trio has been there a lot of good adult interest in classic jazz has developed.

RICKEY'S RANCHO RAFAEL, Ignacio, has a new idea for a weekend special for two —$18. One of the newly decorated rooms for overnight, champagne dinner and a de luxe breakfast.

THE CELLARS, San Rafael, now belongs exclusively to Johnny Scioli and Albert Stanley who went in with Johnny Mangini to set up lunches and dinners and then bought him out. Mangini has his hands full with Marin Meat Co.

DICK ARGENTO makes his own crab cioppino at the Ranch House, San Anselmo, for Friday nights. To some it's known as "crab Argento." Here now at the new piano bar Friday and Saturday nights is Sue Dunn, with Ed Moore on Sundays.

NIGHTLY entertainment at the Gallery, Mill Valley, is provided by new owner Doug Myres, a folk singer. He has other singers Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and the James Lowe Quartet plays 4 to 9 p.m. Sunday nights.

Study Shows Vegetarians Have Low Cholesterol Count

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A five-year study of 2,000 monks, half of whom eat no meat, shows that the vegetarians have a lower cholesterol count.

A study of hardening of the arteries, undertaken in 1957 by the Georgia Health Department, Georgia Heart Assn. and the National Heart Institute, covers 25 monastaries throughout the country.

Dr. Carroll B. Quinlan of the Georgia Health Department said yesterday the experiment must be followed many years before it can be determined whether the difference in diet of the two orders will be reflected in heart disease rates.

The monks of the Trappist and Benedictine orders were selected for the experiment because the Trappists eat no meat and the Benedictine monks eat a typically American diet.

Stamp Design Wins With Misspelling

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Post Office Department promises to spell centennial correctly on the stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. The winning design had it spelled "centennal."

"The design was selected on its artistic merit, not for the correctness of the inscription," the Post Office Department said in Washington yesterday.

"Correction, of course, will be made on the stamp engraving."

Artist Roy Gjertson, 36, of San Pedro, Calif., who won $500 for the design, said, "I can really spell it correctly. I spelled it right on the originals, but just omitted a letter when I made my final design. As far as the misspelling is concerned, I'm laughing all the way to the postoffice."

A high school senior from suburban Lansdowne, Pa., Carlton W. Grove, was among those who noticed the error. Pictures of six of the top stamps in the judging appeared in a supplement of Sunday's Philadelphia Bulletin.

Gjertson's entry for the 5-cent stamp shows a Confederate soldier and a Union soldier in close-quarter combat with bayonets fixed to their rifles. The blue, gray and black stamp will be issued July 1 at Gettysburg, Pa.

Many Advances Improve Outlook In Battle Against Heart Disease

(Last of a series)

There are great gaps in medical science's knowledge about the heart and its disorders. Still unknown, for example, are the underlying causes of atherosclerosis, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever. But the outlook is bright with promise.

People no longer view heart disease as a life sentence to invalidism and futility. The outlook has shifted from one of despair to one of optimism. And why is this so? Simply because medical science has made great strides in diagnosis and treatment of most kinds of heart disease.

Among the many advances which have improved the outlook for heart patients are numerous new techniques and devices which help doctors learn what the trouble is.

To get more precise information about the patient's heart, its functioning and its faults, today's physicians may call on any number of diagnostic aids. Many cardiac centers exist today where experts who specialize in certain techniques can provide the individual doctor with more detailed information.

The size of the heart itself can now be measured precisely, its electrical impulses recorded from several sides and its sounds amplified for more accurate study. Tiny tubes can be inserted into blood vessels and passed directly into the heart to detect abnormalities.

By means of these tubes, pressures inside the heart can be measured and blood samples obtained for many different kinds of study. Dyes can be injected which travel with the blood and register their arrival at "monitoring" points, providing information about the circulation.

When doctors suspect an "aneurysm" — a dangerously weakened artery wall that might rupture—X-rays of the arteries are called for to find the exact location so that the weak spot man be surgically repaired.

Persistent research has brought many improvements to this valuable technique, known as arteriography, one of the newest being amazing X-ray movies which can "visualize" blood vessels as small as 1/250th of an inch in diameter. These split-second movies (60 frames per second) use an amplifier to intensify light from 1,200 to 3,000 times, and have made it possible to study the arteries which feed the heart muscle itself.

These and other precision methods of studying the heart and circulatory system have been discovered and improved through years of tireless research, much of it supported by the Marin Heart Assn. But more research is necessary to help doctors in their task of diagnosis and treatment of heart and blood vessel diseases. Your Heart Fund gift helps.

MORE FIGHTING REPORTED IN IRAQ

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — Machinegun fire indicating new fighting between the revolutionary regime of President Abdel Salam Aref and supporters of slain Premier Abdel Karim Kassem broke out for half an hour last night shortly after the 11 p.m. curfew.

Quick bursts of gun fire were heard from the direction of the Kifa Street area on the east bank of the Tigris River, a largely Kurdish neighborhood with strong Communist elements. In the same area, government troops clashed with Communists Wednesday night after a Communist sniper wounded a revolutionary army man.

ABDEL SALAM AREF

The curfew prevented Western correspondents from making an on-the-spot inspection.

No casualty figures have been disclosed for the clashes that followed the overthrow of Kassem a week ago today. Authorities are censoring all reports of new fighting here.

Revolutionary troops sealed off the Kifa district after the fighting Wednesday night.

A house to house search was carried out yesterday by revolutionary forces. Troops smash in windows, poked guns through the shattered frames, and collected prisoners.

Tentative Budget Set For School

The Tomales Bay Union School District board has adopted a $74,000 tentative budget for the 1964 fiscal year that calls for a tax increase of 50 cents for every $100 of assessed valuation, according to Principal Floyd T. Billigmeier.

The current general fund tax of 80 cents will have to be raised to $1.30, he said. The present budget is $68,481.

The increase of more than $5,000 is needed to support a general increase in costs, Billigmeier said. The action was taken in the regular meeting Wednesday.

Other taxes levied by the district this year are 3½ cents for certified employee retirement, one-half cent for classified employee retirement, five cents for community service, 1 cent for education of mentally retarded, and 22 cents for bond interest and redemption.

This is a total elementary school district tax of $1.12. Adding 50 cents would put it at $1.62.

6 Marin High School Bands Will Take Part In Festival

Six Marin high school bands totaling 348 student musicians will play Sunday in the county's first all-high school band festival, to be held at 3 p.m. in Terra Linda High School gymnasium.

Hugo Rinaldi, music director of the sponsoring San Rafael city schools, said the non-competitive musical event is intended to give students and the community at large an opportunity to hear the product of the school band programs.

Each band will play for 15 minutes, with Rinaldi introducing them. Dr. Webster Wilson, principal of Terra Linda High School, will welcome the participants and audience. Dr. Virgil Hollis, county school superintendent, will speak during an intermission.

Participating bands will be those of Terra Linda High School, 91 students directed by Gordon Lowe; San Rafael High School, 65 students under Melvin Stanley; Redwood High School, 38 students with Sidney Gordon directing; Novato High School, 57 students directed by Gerald Ring; Tamalpais High School, 42 students under Robert Greenwood, and Sir Francis Drake High School, 55 students directed by Perry Smith.

Rinaldi said he hopes next year to hold similar festivals for high school orchestras and choirs.

Admission to Sunday's festival is free.

Acid Doctor's Girl: 'Never Knew Pierre'

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The mother of the illegitimate son of Dr. Geza deKaplany insisted yesterday that she had never known the doctor as Pierre La Roche.

Ruth Krueger, 29, of Mitwitz, West Germany, was the only witness yesterday in deKaplany's trial.

DeKaplan, 37, has pleaded guilty to killing his wife, Hajna, 25, by pouring acid on her body last Aug. 28.

The defense claims that deKaplany is a dual personality, whose alter ego is Pierre La Roche, a French journalist. DeKaplany told a defense psychiatrist that La Roche had control of his mind both when he fathered an illegitimate child in Boston in 1959 and when he attacked his wife.

In bombshell testimony Wednesday, the prosecution produced Miss Krueger, who testified that she had never heard of Pierre and had been intimate with deKaplany under his own name.

Defense attorney E. F. De Vilbiss yesterday hammered at Miss Krueger concerning her relationship with deKaplany.

She said she agreed to come over from Germany because she thought she could help the defendant. Asked why she wanted to help him, she said: "Because he is the father of my child."

Elections Should Be Won At Ballot Box, Not In Court

This business of trying to decide elections by law suits has moved from the absurd to the idiotic.

In the last three months or so we have had a Democratic suit filed against this newspaper for the purposes of censoring a non-existent advertisement; a suit by a Democrat to prevent another Democrat from being on the ballot, and now a suit by three Republicans to overthrow an election in a Republican organization.

We are for the rule of law as much as the next person, probably more. We certainly would frown upon and battle against any kind of political lawlessness where there was an intent to defraud or to deceive. But the use of the courts to win political battles seems to us a perversion.

In the case filed against the Independent-Journal, an over-zealous publicity man became convinced an advertisement was going to be run favoring a Republican's candidacy. According to the publicist, names of Democrats would be used which were not authorized.

The fact that no such ad existed made the matter laughable if you overlook what the suit, filed by leaders of the Democratic Party in Marin, asked. It asked that the publication of the ad be prohibited until the Democrats had time to censor the names to appear on it.

The suit was never taken to trial. It was filed at 5 p. m. on the Friday before election and, with no courts open until Monday morning, the time element was impossible, and meant to be. We would have loved to have had it go to trial. We are perfectly willing to be responsible for things we publish. We refuse to let someone else censor or tell us beforehand what we must or may not publish.

The second suit did go to court. You all know the results. Roger Kent, chairman of the Grader For Congress committee, filed suit against John C. Stuart, Auburn Democrat who also sought the congressional seat, to get him off the ballot on a technicality. Two other Democrats who had paid filing fees had been eliminated earlier on technicalities.

But Stuart fought back. And he won. Even so Democratic revulsion at such tactics didn't result in many votes for Stuart; instead they went for Don Clausen. If Stuart had been eliminated and Grader been given every one of his votes, he still wouldn't have come close. It would have been closer without the suit.

Now, the third suit shows that legal madness is not confined to the Democrats. Three Republicans have filed suit against an election of officers by the Marin Young Republicans. They want it cancelled because they didn't have an opportunity to nominate someone else from the floor that night, although a preliminary vote had shown a compromise slate of officers had an overwhelming majority.

No one gains from such a law suit. It is unnecessary and unfortunate, although we insist on the right of anyone in this country to file it if he liked.

What we hope is that the leadership of the two major parties will stop this senseless, legalistic doubletalk. In a hotly contested election, with numerous volunteer, enthusiastic partisans running around, there will always be minor, technical violations of law. Unless they are the result of a conspiracy, they deserve to be so treated and ignored. Use of them for legal action is not in the American tradition and, apparently, isn't so successful at the polls either.

Fodder For Field Mice

Marin's hills and glens are wearing their winter overcoat of green grass. Much of this annual hay seemingly goes to waste on ungrazed hillsides.

But do not be concerned. Little goes to waste in Nature. This pasture of Providence will provide fodder for bright-eyed, brown field mice, and mattresses for baby rabbits.

Deer will graze upon it. Birds will take the dry grasses for their nests.

No, the ungrazed hillsides just appear to be unused. In reality, they are probably the busiest hillsides of all.

Kennedy Gets Country Moving —But Why On 50-Mile Hikes?

NEW YORK (AP)—The poor man's philosopher says:

In public life today it is no longer enough to have a bleeding heart. Your feet have to bleed, too.

The corn plaster has become the new status symbol for political integrity in the nation's capital.

A man used to say he'd walk a mile for his favorite cigarette. Now he has to walk 50 miles to prove he's physically fit to serve his country.

Pavement patriotism seems to be sweeping Washington, D. C., like wildfire. Every bureaucrat who hasn't made plans to complete a 50-mile loyalty health hike has to publicly admit he has flat feet or be put down as a coward.

They say the area around Foggy Bottom is thronged with so many limping casualties the place looks like Gettysburg on the second day of the battle.

Is this what President John F. Kennedy meant when he said we'd have to get the country moving in the 1960s? Somehow we'd hoped it would be done on wheels.

This whole problem of whether you can measure the efficiency of a government by the number of bunions on the feet of elected and appointed officials raises a number of interesting questions such as:

Will it result in a pedestrian administration?

How fast of foot will lobbyists have to be to keep up with legislators on the hoof?

Isn't it enough to ask a politician to run for public office? Is it fair, after he wins, to expect him to go on a long walk to hold his job?

Instead of arranging to meet a congressman in his office, you will have to get a copy of his hike route from his secretary and hope to catch up with him at an intersection?

POLITICS has always had its obstacle courses, but already some of the sore-footed faithful have been rumbling about using the 50-mile hike as the sole test of fitness.

Some have suggested swimming the Potomac both ways. Others have expressed the view it is more important for a member of the Supreme Court to be able to pole vault over any obstruction than to walk 50 miles.

BE THAT as it may, the New Frontier is building a stronger, hardier breed of public servant. The government is on the march.

Hup, two, three, four! Hup, two, three, four! Keep going, men—the next foot powder station is only 300 yards ahead.

Civic Center Not Paid For

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

"An Ode-or to Taj Mahal"
The wind blew
And the rain flew
And Taj Mahal leaks
Like a sieve will do.

And this is not the only leak. Auditor-Controller Mitchell tells us that the land and administration building has been completely paid for although there are many taxpayers who are not aware of this fact.

I beg to state that this is an untruth. In behalf of our aged and ill citizens who are at present being shuttled around like inanimate objects due to the ceiling of $219 for nursing home care the State of California clamped on them, I say Taj Mahal (civic center) has a mortgage on it to the tune of $2,000,000. This amount belongs to the senior citizens who are in need in Marin County.

Why? Because once Marin had set aside $2,000,000 for remodeling or rebuilding our county hospital and farm at Lucas Valley. Suddenly the "culture bug" bit our supervisors (only Fusselman was immune). The results were earth shattering, to say the least. For shame; the people were deprived of their right to vote, on not only this multi-million dollar edifice, but also other major issues. Keeping these issues off the ballot was the only way of putting them over on the electorate. And worst of all, the $2,000,000 belonging to our senior citizens, who were in care of housing and general welfare, was usurped and sunk in this civic center.

Hardly a nursing home in Marin can accommodate an elderly patient at this $219 rate. Says young Supervisor Peter Behr, "We are trapped." So to escape this "Trap of Retribution" our supervisors are putting up a howl to Governor Brown. In order for our masters to have their cake and eat it, Marin simply cannot take care of its electorate and taxpayers of a few years ago.

Why cannot Marin take care of its own? Did not Supervisor Castro, a staunch proponent of all the foregoing culture movement, tell us on the day Taj Mahal was dedicated with its roof leaking badly, "We have $500,000 already set aside for the next stage of this civic center." Since then tax collecting time has come and gone and without a doubt this amount has grown considerably.

Let Governor Brown know why our old people are out on a limb. Maybe he will tell our supervisors, "Pay these old Marin residents and founders of Marin back . . . Make that $500,000 your first payment on account." This amount will surely keep these deserving people free from harassment and comfortable for a long time.

I can't believe the Taj Mahal's golden gates and golden balls in the golden halls which halls are more spacious than the offices, nor the golden tower, nor the Japanese cherry trees, nor the $300 raise each supervisor has just voted for himself, nor the Senior Citizen Coordinator for which Supervisor Behr proposes we pay $9,120 a year (good job for Vera Schultz) and an assistant for around $3,600 (skip the cost of the office and sundry expenses) for our able to financially comfortable oldsters, will interest our aged and helpless citizens in the least.

Pay these old people back. Let them be at peace.

Volunteer Firemen Deserve Praise

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently as you and I sat in our comfortable homes one evening, Belvedere volunteer firemen braved a chilling downpour for two hours to fight flooding water. This is but one of the many community services volunteer firemen perform.

These unusual men deserve special praise. Since four out of every five firemen in our nation is a volunteer, (see Volunteer Firefighter, April, '62) all of us benefit from their unselfish service.

Besides endangering their personal safety in service to others, volunteer firemen also sacrifice sleep, meals, and time. Since they are on call 24 hours a day, they respond to the call of duty anytime, anywhere, and in any condition.

Many a volunteer has forsaken the bliss of sleep in answer to a midnight siren. Many an appealing supper table has been deserted in a hasty flight to a fire. More than one suit of clothes has prematurely gone to the cleaners as a result of firefighting.

Besides responding to fire calls, these men spend many hours each month maintaining fire preparedness. Fire engines are tested. Practice drills are run. Training films are viewed. Damaged equipment is repaired, and new equipment is ordered.

Not only do volunteer firemen render invaluable service, but they also give an example to imitate. We would do well to express our sincere appreciation to these wonderful men. Governor Brown did last year when he said, "I cannot praise enough the work of California's Volunteer Fire Departments in the dedicated and truly outstanding job they have done and are doing . . ."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Nothing like the devotion a dyed-in-the-wool cowboy from Montana will show for his horse. One old hand led his four-legged charge into the lobby of a new hospital in Missoula. "You can't do this," protested the flustered receptionist. "This is a hospital for PEOPLE. You must be looking for a horse doctor." "Ma'am," responded the cowboy, "when I'm ailin', one of those hoss doctors is OK. But when my hoss is ailin', I wants a people doctor."

Crew Coach Darrow looked over a bowlegged freshman and inquired, "So you're aiming to come out for the crew, eh? Ever rowed before?" The freshman confessed, "Only a horse, sir."

The club's worst golfer was having a particularly bad time on one hole, when he spotted an interloper watching him in stark disbelief from the edge of the fairway. "Hey, you," barked the member angrily. "Only golfers are allowed on this course."

The interloper nodded. "I know it, Mister," he agreed, "but I won't say anything if you won't, either."

Smog Can Come To Marin From North As Well As From East Bay

When the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board met in the Civic Center last week, everybody present seemed generally happy with the smog problem (or lack of one) in Marin County.

The board and its visitors heard favorable reports on the situation in Marin. Although it was pointed out that conditions exist which could make us uncomfortable, we were all assured that things won't get too bad if controls can keep up with new industry in the Bay Area.

THE EXPERTS said Marin produces little of its own smog. It's the stuff grown elsewhere that we have to watch out for.

San Jose and the East Bay were listed as the smoggy sources which might be most troublesome. Nothing was said about new sources to our north. But there may be something there sooner than we think.

The first clear hint of it will come next week when the Marin County Planning Commission will hear a request for a use permit to expand the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's electric substation at Ignacio.

IT SEEMS SIMPLE enough, and hardly the sort of thing one could hang a smog threat on. But that use permit is a direct descendant of a use permit granted three years ago in Sonoma County. At that time, a permit was granted for the controversial Bodega Bay nuclear power plant. The Ignacio station would convert Bodega Bay power.

One of the "features" of this experimental plant would be a 300-foot-high stack which would release radioactive wastes. Air pollution control district engineers consider smog to include such wastes.

But, oddly enough, Sonoma doesn't belong to the district. The Atomic Energy Commission has been vague as to just how extensive the radioactivity from Bodega Bay might be. Whatever the amount, it would be blown downwind through Marin County.

POSSIBLE POLLUTION of the air is only one aspect. The plant would allegedly pour 25,000 gallons a minute of heated water into the ocean. More radioactive wastes would be in this water, and such wastes are picked up by shellfish. This has happened before. Oysters in Washington became contaminated with radioactive zinc dumped from a Columbia River plant.

The history of the Bodega Bay plant is full of many unanswered questions. Nobody seems just sure how safe it would be because there has been nothing like it built on such a large scale before. The University of California and the State Division of Beaches and Parks at one time had other ideas for Bodega Bay's future, but have altered their plans.

UNTIL NOW it has all seemed far away from Marin. But the Ignacio use permit, and maybe air polluion, have brought it to our back door.

Before long, Marin will have its chance to play a role in the battle of Bodega Bay, and it could be a decisive one.

Radio Liberty Using 'First Family' Record To Show Soviets Freedom

WASHINGTON—Radio Liberty, over which Soviet citizens broadcast to Russia in 17 Soviet languages, is playing a mean trick on the Kremlin.

In shortwave broadcasts from Germany, Spain, and Formosa, Radio Liberty is showing the Russian people what a marvelous means of pleasure and social criticism political satire can be when it is really free, can be spoken and heard without fear.

It is doing this in a many-times repeated interview with Vaughan Meader, who is the principal wit and impersonator in the famed American recording, "The First Family."

SINCE RADIO Liberty is a non-governmental network financed by private donations, it does not have to be diplomatic or discreet. It can blurt out the truth. One truth which the Meader interview blurts out is a passage from "The First Family" album cover which is certain to impress Soviet listeners who thirst for satire in the no-holds-barred Western tradition. The message is:

"This album can be played loudly at any time, night or day, in front of anyone, anywhere people have a right to laugh. We hope that some day soon everyone, everywhere, will have that right to laugh."

THE KREMLIN won't like this. The joys which Mr. Meader tells about in producing "The First Family" and in seeing it zoom to a massive best seller could whet the appetite of the Soviet people to want their own humorists free enough to do something like it.

The power and popularity of "The First Family" come because it pricks big balloons. It is a weapon of free people directed at government, not a weapon of government directed at the people.

The Kremlin won't like this because satire in the Soviet Union, despite a limited easing of repression, is allowed to be used only to point an accusing finger at Soviet citizens or minor officials whom the government wants to hold up to scorn—those it finds guilty of being too religious, or too enterprising, or too slothful.

Minor officials who succumb to any of these "sins" often find themselves exposed in the pages of Krokodil, the Russian humor magazine.

THERE IS NO freedom to stick pins in Khrushchev's balloon—or even Mikoyan's—as Meader sticks pins in Jack and Jacqueline Kennedy, Bobby and Teddy, Caroline and little John Kennedy, and the in-laws.

Meader's counsel and challenge to the Soviet satirists is that the only tolerable censor is good taste and that must come from self-censorship.

MILL VALLEY IN 1975—The Mill Valley Katzenjammer Band marched 40-strong in 1937 and 1938 in national and state conventions in the Bay Area. A call has been issued by the former band leader to hold a Katzenjammer Band reunion March 17 in Mill Valley at the American Legion Hall. Sign refers to the wish that the legionnaires might hold their convention in Mill Valley in 1975. Most of the "Katz" wore false mustaches.

BUS

meda-Contra Costa Transit District.

Engineers Gilboa and Meyer reported the Alameda-Contra Costa bus system, which succeeded the Key System, is the only transit system in the United States which showed an increase in patronage during the past year.

It was financed with a $16,500,000 bond issue, which is being paid off through profits and a 3½ cent tax rate.

The engineers said they see no reason why a similar operation cannot be set up between Marin and San Francisco. In fact, said Meyer, a bus system in Marin might be more economical than in Alameda-Contra Costa because population centers are stretched in one north-south line from Novato to San Francisco. He pointed out that Alameda-Contra Costa is strung out north-south for the local runs and east-west for the trans-bay commute lines.

Gilboa listed these factors as important in attracting bus rides:

1. Fast service. A-CC Transit has an exclusive bus lane on the Bay Bridge which increases speed. If the state highways can be induced to give exclusive bus lanes on freeways, It would improve service even more.

2. Frequency of service. The more frequently a bus runs, the more attractive it is to patrons. A-CC Transit has bus schedules posted at the bus stops so that patrons will know when the next bus is due.

3. Cost factor. In Alameda-Contra Costa, commute fare to San Francisco is 40 cents, and local rides 25 cents. Fares for school children are lower. A reduction is offered also to purchasers of tokens.

4. Advertising through newspapers and posters helps patronage. A-CC Transit uses colorful maps showing all routes and issues time tables of bus arrivals.

Several members of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs disagreed sharply with bridge district director Murphy on the comparative cost of riding a bus and commuting by private car.

"Present commuters ride five or six in a car and pay 13-cent toll," said Murphy. "What inducement is there to ride buses?"

Two commuters pointed out that most commute cars carry one or two, not five or six. Furthermore, the bridge toll of 26 cents (both ways) is only a small part of the cost. Parking in San Francisco costs 50 cents to $2, and the expense of operating the car must be added. One commuter estimated that it costs him $3 to $4 per day by car as compared to $1 per day he would have to pay by bus.

In a county such as Marin, where population density is relatively low, buses have certain advantages over trains, engineer Gilboa explained.

In the first place, a train would require a completely new right of way and rails whereas buses can use highways.

Trains need large volume of passengers, cannot stop so often, and cannot pick up and disperse passengers in outlying areas.

Buses that serve commuters can also be used in transporting school children because the rush hours do not conflict, Gilboa pointed out.

Murphy said he feels his first obligation is to move traffic over the bridge, lower fares, and eventually make the bridge toll-free. The idea of bus service he is willing to discuss, although he personally feels Marin commuters won't take buses.

But trains over the bridge "I can't see at all," said Murphy. He said the bridge district spent big money for engineering studies, and the engineers recommended against putting rails across the bridge.

Where, Oh Where Are Katzenjammers?

The Mill Valley Katzenjammer Band of 1937-38 may march again.

Members of the band are being sought to attend a reunion March 17 in the Mill Valley American Legion Hall. Philip Dietz of Calistoga, leader of the former 40-member band, has called for the get-together.

The Katzenjammers, of which there are now 31, may parade down Miller Avenue but it is not definite, according to Porter M. Griffith of Sausalito, program chairman.

However, a concert will be held in the Legion Hall and corned beef and cabbage served at a St. Patrick's Day dinner.

The Katzenjammers paraded at American Legion national and state conventions held in San Francisco, Oakland, Stockton, San Jose and Long Beach 25 years ago.

Nine bandsmen are deceased; 20 men have been "found" and 11 are still being sought.

The band carried large signs, "Mill Valley In 1975," post commander Francis W. Mosher Jr. said. The idea was to promote a convention in Mill Valley that year.

Legionnaire Norman Boyd of Sausalito is hunting for a roll of 8 millimeter film taken during the 1937-38 marches.

Known living Marin Katzenjammers include Robert F. Russell, Corte Madera; Griffith; George V. Griffits, Donald L. Burbeck, Jim Brogan, and Martin J. Jukich, all of Mill Valley, Francis F. Seitz, Greenbrae; Charles McCrum, Novato, and Boyd.

$4-Million Bonds For Schools Asked

committees lost 16 to 4, with two abstaining.

The committee, which completed action on teacher salaries last week by approving 18 to 7 a recommendation that the board of education work toward a 12-step goal in the salary schedule, moved last night to other fields with a series of recommendations:

1. That there be no increase at this time in the ceiling on the elementary school district's operating tax rate ($1.75 per $100 assessed valuation). This was passed 20 to 0, with one abstention.

2. That if a surplus of classrooms becomes available, first priority be given to reducing class loads in primary grades. This was voted unanimously.

3. That rehabilitation of San Rafael High School be given first priority from bond and other funds now available to the high school district. This also passed unanimously.

4. That the high school district utilize state aid in financing school facilities as soon as it becomes elegible to do so. This likewise was a unanimous vote.

5. That the board of education "direct special attention to the counseling program in the high schools" for "a general upgrading of the program." This was voted 18 to one, with two abstaining.

6. That the board continue the policy of providing neighborhood kindergarten-sixth grade schools for maximum enrollments of 500 pupils. This was voted 18 to 0 with three abstaining.

7. That in planning future high schools, Terra Linda High School be taken as a yardstick, measured against state allowances and against what other school districts have provided in similar situations. This passed 14 to 5, with two abstaining.

8. That library facilities be made adequate in existing schools and be planned in new schools to approach standards of the American Library Assn. This was voted 18 to 2, with one abstaining. (Some library improvements are included in the proposed bond issue.)

9. That future junior high schools be planned for a maximum of 750 to 800 students and include gymnasiums. This first passed 12 to one with eight abstaining. After the rules were suspended to permit a revote, and the subject was further discussed, it passed 20 to 0 with one abstaining.

10. That elementary school sites be reduced below the standards set by the state if necessary to meet local conditions. This was voted unanimously.

The committee adjourned on a motion by Marion Marks as "having fulfilled our duties, ask to be discharged, but stand ready to reconvene if the board of education so desires."

The proposed bond issue would finance the following, as outlined by the school administration and accepted by the committee:

Additions to present schools: kindergarten and five classrooms at Gallinas School; libraries at Hartzell and MacPhail; addition to library at San Pedro; library, three classrooms and restrooms at Sun Valley; six classrooms, restrooms, library-workroom, food service area, industrial arts building and enlargement of gymnasium at Davidson Junior High; three classrooms, library and gymnasium at Santa Venetia Junior High.

New schools and sites: completion of Glenwood Elementary School (estimated to require $110,000 beyond funds available from sale of E Street School); sites in Marin Bay (three), East San Rafael, canal and Dominican areas; site preparation for Glenwood Junior High School; two new kindergarten-sixth grade schools on two of the sites to be purchased.

Special buildings: addition to administration building; six classrooms and restrooms for classes for physically and mentally handicapped which are operated by the county superintendent of schools.

The multi-purpose room bond proposal would be to build such rooms at Coleman, Gallinas, Glenwood, Hartzell, Laurel Dell, MacPhail, San Pedro, Sun Valley and West End elementary schools.

Regarding state aid for high school construction, Supt. Bert C. Corona said the district may be eligible for it now, but he was not sure. Acceptance of state aid would require a vote by the people, but the committee made no recommendation on calling for such a vote.

W. W. Gudmundsen was committee chairman.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Some Opponents Are Pussycats — And Others Are Dirty Dogs

After 30 years of playing bridge I am now ready to tell it to the world: Some opponents are pussycats, and others are dirty dogs.

You can save 30 years if you take my word for this profound truth—but make sure you know one from the other.

When this hand was played, not long ago, West led three rounds of diamonds to start with.

South ruffed the third diamond, drew trumps with the ace and queen, and ruffed another diamond.

HIGH SPADES

South then cashed two high spades and led a third spade, hoping that the trick would be won by a pussycat.

As it happened, East—that dirty dog—won the third spade. East returned a club, and South had to lose a club trick.

"I'd have made it if he had held the king of clubs," South explained to his long-suffering partner.

TRUE, BUT

This was true, of course, but the bidding made it dollars to doughnuts that West was the pussycat with the king of clubs.

South can make the contract if he knows which animal to catch.

After ruffing the third round of diamonds, South must lead out his remaining five trumps, discarding a low spade from dummy on the last trump.

LAST CARDS

As his last five cards West must save one diamond, two clubs, and therefore only two spades.

Declarer thereupon cashes the king and ace of spades and gives up a diamond trick to West, discarding the losing spade from his hand.

West must win the trick and lead away from the king of clubs no matter how pitifully he may mew.

Declarer wins the last two tricks, making the contract.

Today is Friday, Feb. 15, the 46th day of 1963 with 319 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1898, the U. S. battleship Maine was blown up in Havana Harbor, inflaming American public opinion and presaging the Spanish-American War.

In 1961, a U. N. mission called upon dissident Congo factions to negotiate peace. The conciliation group called for a federal system in the Congo.

A thought for the day—English author G. K. Chesterton said: "The world will never starve for wonders; but only for want of wonder."

COLLEGE STUDENTS HIT RECORD HIGH

The College of Marin has a record number of students, and for the first time the spring semester enrollment exceeds the preceding fall figure, Vice President Paul Clymer told the Marin Junior College District board last night.

There now are 2,368 regular and special students in credit courses as compared with 2,302 for fall semester and 1,711 for the spring semester of 1962, Clymer reported.

The figures do not include students in adult non-credit classes. If these figures were added, the total would exceed 5,000, Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said after the meeting.

The current increase is due to the addition of police supervision courses, a larger enrollment in real estate classes, and the start of classes in Novato, said Diamond.

College President Stephen E. Epler said the increase points up the need for the college to continue its expansion with all feasible speed.

The College Of Marin Trustees Also:

1. Agreed to pay Mr. and Mrs. George B. Geramoni of Ross $55,000, instead of $54,000, for three lots on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to expand the Kentfield campus. Geramoni wrote that the lower figure was inadequate and trustees agreed $55,000 was close to an appraisal by the district.
2. Accepted recommendation of County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to complete negotiations to buy the property of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Ford at 1 Laurel Avenue, Kentfield, for $16,144.
3. Approved payment of $600 to $800 more than the original estimate of $2,500 for soils testing for the new gymnasium site after Harding Associates reported it was taking more time than expected.
4. Agreed to pay Ghilotti Brothers $920 for additional excavations at the gym site and authorized filing of notice of completion of site development work.
5. Authorized the architectural-engineering firm of Falk and Booth to make working drawings of the gymnasium.
6. Authorized Falk and Booth to incorporate a new Olney Hall entrance, replacement of 37 Olney Hall doors, and new library lighting in summer work plans.
7. Authorized the administration to make temporary changes in the fine arts building for music courses and plan changes in the student center building.
8. Authorized leasing of 20,000 square feet of space at 21 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, from H. E. Nelson for the apprentice program and other classes.
9. Passed a resolution requesting the Marin County Board of Supervisors to include a left turn signal at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for cars turning into College Avenue, and voted to send copies to the A. E. Kent School and Kentfield Civic League for support.
10. Approved a schedule of 1963-64 budget discussions calling for public hearing and adoption Aug. 1.
11. Received reports on the data processing program from instructor Donald Griffin and on an audio-visual committee meeting from instructor George Duncan. Duncan recommended overhead projectors in all possible classrooms. Trustees praised Duncan's report on the use of projectors, educational movies, and closed circuit television.

Trustee George G. Washburn, who is ill, was absent.

'Payola' Attacked In School Photos

"Payola" in contracts for high school yearbook pictures was attacked by speakers on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" yesterday.

Principal Alfred N. Thomson of San Rafael High School said he had never thought of a five per cent fee charged contracting photographers as "payola." Principal Robert J. McKeay of Novato High School said he thought the five per cent fee "was not excessive."

But it looked like payola and "a very vicious racket" to Philip Planert, Mill Valley commercial photographer; and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the Marin Junior College District board, declared "a general overhauling . . . is long overdue."

Planert said that, to get a contract to take yearbook pictures, the photographer must kick back 5 per cent of his gross to the school.

At Novato High, this charge is exacted in a requirement that the photographer take an advertisement in the yearbook to the 5 per cent amount.

At San Rafael High, two photographers pay 5 per cent. Kee Coleman Studios of San Francisco takes student portraits. A retired teacher takes activities pictures. Both rebate 5 per cent.

Novato High contracts with Russ Booth Studio of Novato. But other high schools in Marin, asserted Planert, use San Francisco photographers and "the payola is so powerful that no one in Marin has a chance for contracts."

At Novato, teacher George De Tuncq, who has a photography business on the side, complained last week to the school board about alleged pressure on students to have pictures taken by the official yearbook photographer.

Mrs. Deedy said the pressure exists at other schools, and added, "The pictures are not inexpensive."

Thomson said he "was not aware of any local interest" by photographers in taking school pictures. Planert retorted that Les Walsh, San Rafael commercial photographer, had tried to talk about getting the job and "could not even get into the principal's office."

In reply to a question telephoned by a listener, Thomson said he did not know anything about a bid reportedly offered by a local photographer to match the San Francisco firm's terms.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Sanitary Annexation 'Final Push' Ready

Gallinas Village Community Services District directors will make a "final push" next week to complete petitions for the annexation of district sanitary facilities to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

Alys Durenberger, CSD secretary-manager, said petitions are "very close" to the required 75 per cent of assessed valuation. If residents representing 75 per cent sign the petitions, it will not be necessary for the district to hold an election.

Petitions are being circulated from house to house in the district.

Engineer Warren J. Nute of San Rafael presented detailed plans to the board for the enlargement of pumping facilities at the district's plant at Hawthorne Way and Vendola Drive. The Santa Venetia flood Control District will share in the maintenance cost of the improvements. The entire plant will be taken over by the sanitary district if annexation is approved.

Nute said final plans for improvements should be ready for bids next month.

Waldo Will Get 4 Traffic Lanes

Restriping and strengthening the shoulders of Highway 101 will soon provide four lanes uphill in both directions on the Waldo Grade.

District Highway Engineer R. Arthur Hayler said Wednesday that bids on the project, for which there is $300,000 in the budget, will be called for in Sacramento within two months. Plans for the project are already completed.

From the south end of the Richardson Bay Bridge to near Spencer Avenue, the southbound lanes will be widened. Northbound, the project involves the stretch of highway from the Golden Gate Bridge to the Spencer Avenue-Monte Mar off-ramp to Sausalito.

The downhill grade on both sides will remain three lanes. The fourth lane uphill will be primarily for use of buses and heavy trucks.

Plane Equipment Found At Stinson

A gasoline tank from an airplane and four exposure suits were found by unidentified residents of Stinson Beach on the shore near their homes last weekend, officials of Western Air Rescue at Hamilton Air Force Base revealed yesterday.

The tank was identified as one from a P-2V, a type of plane flown out of Alameda Naval Air Station. A plane of that type went down in San Francisco Bay Jan. 5. All crew members escaped. The four exposure suits may or may not have been on the plane, Air Force officials said.

Marin Hikers To Hit Road Again Tomorrow

Stalwart Marin hikers will be on the road again tomorrow, but there will not be the loud stamp of marching feet that was heard across the county Monday when 400 students, mostly from Redwood High School, accepted the 50-mile challenge.

Tomorrow's hikers, mostly students, will follow the same route as Monday's crowd, out Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Point Reyes Station and back via Nicasio. And they will try to do it in less than 20 hours.

Earliest starters tomorrow will be a group of 10 juniors from Marin Catholic High School who will leave at 4 a.m. Reason for the early start is that they want to be back in time for the Mardi Gras Dance at the school tomorrow evening.

About 15 to 20 from San Rafael High School will join five members of the Marin Athletic Club to start the hike at 9 p.m. tomorrow. They are starting late because they expect to feel better at night.

Three airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base claim the best time so far, covering a 50-mile route to Cotati and back in eight hours and 18 minutes. They ran much of the way.

The hiking fever swept the nation last week when President John F. Kennedy, shown a 1908 order issued to Marine officers by former President Theodore Roosevelt, decided that the order was still good. It said an officer in the Marines should be able to hike 50 miles in 20 hours.

Tamalpais High To Inaugurate

Tamalpais High School student body officers were to be inaugurated at an afternoon assembly today.

Being sworn into office were Gregory Cory, president; Arthur Foster, vice president; Carole McDaniel, secretary; Fred Rynders, treasurer, and Jim Durbin, rally commissioner.

Torny Thronstrom and Monica Ibar, American Field Service exchange students visiting from East Bay schools, were to address the student body on their countries, Sweden and Chile, respectively.

San Rafael Parks Aide To Conference

Joseph D. Rodota, San Rafael city parks and recreation director, and Dennis Sullivan, recreation supervisor, will attend the 15th annual California and Pacific Southwest Recreation and Park Conference in San Diego Feb. 17 through 20.

USF Land Is Studied By College

A parcel of 150 acres owned by the University of San Francisco, three miles north of Novato, was discussed by the Marin Junior College District board last night as a possible second campus for the College of Marin.

Architect Corwin Booth of the firm of Falk and Booth said he had looked at the site, part of a larger area owned by USF, yesterday afternoon and found it had good drainage on land that was largely level.

The site is on the east side of Highway 101 across from the Marin County Airport and slightly to the north.

The firm is to study this site further as trustees continue to consider 200 acres of the Pacheco Ranch, between Novato and Hamilton Air Force Base.

Marion Might Be Closed Long Time

Mill Valley's Marion Avenue, closed off by an 80-foot slide of earth and Redwood trees in Thursday rains, may be closed for some time, City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said, yesterday.

Bala said, on his visual inspection only, he has determined the slide, which tore out water, gas and electric connections, was caused by the property owner having excavated at the toe of the embankment.

It is the property owner's responsibility to repair it, said Bala. The city street department sawed six large redwood trees in the slide area to prevent their falling, Bala said. No homes were endangered.

Acts For Washburn

Max S. Martin, San Anselmo insurance agent, was appointed acting secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce yesterday, and secretary-manager George G. Washburn was given a leave of absence to undergo major surgery Sunday at Ross Hospital.

Novatans Taking College Courses

College of Marin classes opened this semester at Novato High School have 178 students, Dean Ellsworth Briggs of adult education told Marin Junior College District trustees last night.

One credit class, in psychology, has so many students—66—that it had to be cut in two. There are 160 students in six credit courses and 18 in a non-credit course.

Student Ability Groups Will Be Discussed

Ability grouping of students will be discussed in a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goshen, 5 Monte Mar Drive, Sausalito.

At the meeting will be Supt. Marcus F. Davis of Sausalito Elementary School District and Charles Crawford, assistant principal of Tamalpais High School.

Potluck Servings Of Warriors, Golf, Track, Baseball, Basketball

RANDOL

Potluck. Or, an excuse to clean out the top drawer of a bulging desk. If you don't like what you get, toss it back in the pot and let it simmer a while.

The San Francisco Warriors back in town, firing and falling back, as usual. This time it really hurt, as they lost ground to Detroit's Pistons. By the time the Warriors play their next sets with Los Angeles and Boston, Governor Brown may declare the Cow Palace a disaster area.

It's a good thing Arnie Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Niclaus drop out of an occasional tournament on the pro golf circuit. It must be discouraging for the rest of the pros to always be shooting for third or fourth money.

ADMITTEDLY, golfers put up with a great deal of annoyance from the crowds who ring the greens. They would be more annoyed if no one showed up. The galleries make the big purses possible. The same temperamental artists who growl at the spectators will wait all day for TV cameras to film one of the weekend specials. Money talks, and it's no whisper.

Knowing the rule book in golf is almost as important as a good approach shot. One false move and you're dundee. Imagine needing to send a wire to headquarters to find out if it should cost you a stroke when a bee moves your ball. Or waiting five minutes for the grass to grow while your ball hangs on the lip of a cup. Golf could use a few on-the-spot umpires like Jocko Conlan.

MOST OF us attending the Golden Gate Invitational Meet tonight won't be expecting to see any new world records in indoor track. The wonder will be getting all the events into one evening without having the shot putters bouncing one off the heads of the milers. Or the vaulters clearing the high jump standard.

BASEBALL SEASON will be over before it starts. The Giants have called a press conference, and Manager Alvin Dark will tell how he will win 'em all this year. Simple, no?

STANFORD'S basketballers could blow the works tonight and tomorrow when they meet the Berkeley Bears in a home and homer. California shouldn't be in the same league with the Indians, on paper, but they are just the kind of club that could cause the most trouble. Accurate shooting from the outside could do the trick.

MARIN COUNTY has a big finger in the pie served up by two sports conferences in the near future. Bob Troppmann of Redwood High is the clinic manager for the "Coach of the Year Clinic" at the Jack Tar next Friday and Saturday. Some of the biggest "name" coaches in the country will be in town, and Bob has cornered Marv Levy of Cal, John Ralston of Stanford, and Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf of the 49ers as moderators.

ON MARCH 9, San Rafael will host the second annual Far West Sports Injury Conference. This has proved to be one of the important clearing grounds for such matters, and the discussions can affect the well being of youngsters the country over.

FINAL NOTE. The ice hockey Seals may not be able to beat Portland out of the top spot, but they are sure giving it a run. And you can't ask for more.

440, Mile, Vaulting Headlines S.F. Meet

By DICK BARNES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A record-potential 440-yard dash field, a quartet of sub--4-minute milers and the weekly gathering of vaulting stars will feature indoor tracks return to San Francisco tonight, 7:30 o'clock.

The Golden Gate Invitational, first indoor meet here in 20 years, is expected to draw a crowd of more than 10,000 to the Cow Palace to watch a strong field sprinkled with foreign stars.

The mile is as evenly-matched as the 440, with the world's 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th fastest milers from 1962 in the field.

They're Marine Cary Weisiger, 3:58.1; Oregon's Keith Forman, 3:58.3; ex-Kansan Bill Dotson, 3:59.0, and Finland's Olavi Salonen, 3:59.1.

Sixteen-footers C. K. Yang, Ron Morris and Brian Sternberg will bring their fiberglass whips to the pole vaulting competition. If the winter pattern prevails one of the other four men in the field will join the 16-foot ranks.

Morris is the only old-timer of the trio. Yang, a Nationalist Chinese studying at UCLA, never cleared 15 feet until this winter. Sternberg, a Washington sophomore, upset a field of 16-footers by going 16¾ last week at Los Angeles.

The 50- and 60-yard dashes match Herb Carper and Roscoe Cook, co-holders of the indoor 60-yard standard of 6.0 with Forrest Beaty, the high school sprint sensation of 1961 and 1962. Beaty, a University of California freshman, ran 9.4 and 20.2 in the outdoor dashes as a prep.

Hayes Jones bids for his 40th consecutive indoor hurdles victory in a 60-yard event. Then he and broad jumper Ralph Boston will take on the sprinters in a 25-yard dash. Jones and Boston claim they're as fast from the blocks as the dashmen.

John Thomas, fresh from his victory over Russian Valery Brumel, meets two other 7-footers, Joe Faust and Gene Johnson, in the high jump.

The feature relay matches Arizona State and Southern California at the mile. They ranked first and second among college teams in 1962.

Scrambling Alvin, Albie All Tied Up

MIAMI (UPI)—Defending champion and four-time winner Alvin Dark shared the lead with little Albie Pearson today as the nation's top baseball linksters teed in the second round of the National Baseball Players' golf tournament.

Dark, manager of the National League champion San Francisco Giants, fired a three-over-par 73 yesterday to lock scores with Pearson, a Los Angeles Angel.

Both players had five bogeys and two birdies, but Dark moaned that he "scrambled all over the place" for his 37-36—73. Pearson went out in a smooth 35, but rode home on a 38.

Former winner Freddie Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and Boston Red Sox coach Billy Herman scored 74s for second place.

Hutchinson was in good position to take the lead all by himself after 15 holes yesterday, but he double-bogeyed the 16th and bogeyed the 17th and 18th.

BRANDT PROUD

Baltimore outfielder Jackie Brandt, trumpeting that he played "the best golf of my life," was in a tie for third place going into today's round at 75. Former New York Giant and Philadelphia Philly hurler Jim Hearn also had a 75.

Yankee hurler Ralph Terry was all alone at 76. And former Detroit pitcher Virgil Trucks, now a Pirate coach, had an opening-round 77.

Fiery Washington outfielder Jimmy Piersall carded a respectable 78.

IF YOU WANT A GOLD MEDAL, TAKE A HIKE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Amos Alonzo Stagg Foundation will present a gold physical fitness medal to each person who walks 50 miles in 20 hours or less.

Dr. Fred H. Busher, national director of the foundation, said the walk was in keeping with the great tradition of Stagg.

Stagg, one of the first All America football players and all-time great coaches, retired at the age of 97. He is now 100.

Persons who have accomplished the walk and desire a medal should write the foundation, Box 2344 in San Francisco. Dr. Busher said 50 cents should be included to cover handling and mailing charges.

Hamilton Wins Two Volleyball Titles

Hamilton Air Force Base volleyball players won two Air Defense Command championships Wednesday night and a chance to play in the World Wide Volleyball Tournament next week at Hamilton AFB.

The Hamilton players, representing the 28th Air Division, took the six-man team and the two-man team championships.

The Hamilton winners will face teams representing major Air Force Commands from all over the world next week in the world wide tournament.

Elorde Is Favored

Weary Seals Muff Chance, Take Rest

A badly needed rest period started today for the San Francisco Seals who took a 4-1 belting from the Los Angeles Blades last night and lost a chance to capture first place in the Western Hockey League's Southern Division.

"Yes, we can use the rest," said Coach Bud Poile, whose Seals checked in from a road trip that saw them win six out of nine games.

"But still, the Blades just outskated us and we missed out on the game we had to win. That often happens when you come home, doesn't it?" said Poile. As a result of the defeat, the Seals continued to trail the Portland Buckaroos by one point in the divisional race.

It was the only game of the night in WHL play. San Francisco now is idle until Feb. 20 when it hosts Vancouver.

8,332 CROWD

The Blades, who sustained a 6-0 blanking at the hands of the Seals Wednesday night in Los Angeles, atoned for it in convincing fashion before 8,332 fans at the Cow Palace.

Ed Diachuk of Los Angeles broke a 1-1 tie in the second period last night by skimming a low 10-footer past goal tender Jim McLeod, who had entered the contest looking for his third shutout of the season against the Blades.

Diachuk's tally came at 5:44 and Bruce Carmichael scored another for the Blades a minute and 12 seconds later when he whipped in a backhander from close up.

Willie O'Ree closed out the Blades' scoring by slamming a rebound past McLeod with 7:52 played in the last period.

Ed Stankiewicz had given Los Angeles a 1-0 lead in the opener when he converted a 40-footer by player-coach Jack Bownass that McLeod partially deflected. Len Haley tied the score for the Seals four minutes later, taking Ray Cyr's pass and soloing in from the Los Angeles blue line.

Ed Babiuk, the Blades' goal tender, and McLeod each had 28 saves. But Babiuk had a big edge in the sparklers.

The Blades host Portland and Vancouver is at Edmonton in league contests tonight.

Alejandro Lavorante Is Still Unconscious

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Argentine heavyweight boxer Alejandro Lavorante was still reported in a coma today and in fair condition from a fight Sept. 21.

A spokesman at California Lutheran Hospital said the 26-year-old fighter's "physical condition was fine but he just won't wake up."

Olympic Group Faces Tremendous Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — The rise of new independent nations throughout the world, particularly in Africa, is posing a tremendous Olympic problem, Avery Brundage said today.

"We have more than 100 countries in the Olympics now, and you can imagine what it will be if this list reaches 150, which is quite possible," the president of the International Olympic Committee added during a brief stopover in New York.

"The situation could become really unwieldy in events such as boxing and wrestling, in which countries enter men in every weight division. It would be almost impossible to complete a tournament in the allotted time.

"There are other problems, too, with these new nations. Without any Olympic background and knowledge of our operations, they will be in a position to enter the various international federations and make decisions affecting all of us."

Brundage has just returned from preliminary IOC meetings in Lausanne, Switzerland, where a new code against discrimination was drafted and Indonesia was barred indefinitely for excluding Nationalist China and Israel from last year's Asian Games.

1963 East-West Coaches Picked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The coaching staff for next December's East-West Shrine football game will be headed by Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and Jim Sutherland of Washington State.

In announcing the set-up yesterday, general manager William M. Coffman said that Mollenkopf's East staff would include Ara Parseghian of Northwestern and Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse.

John McKay of the top-ranked University of Southern California will assist Sutherland on the West team along with John Bridgers of Baylor.

Coffman also announced that last December's Shrine contest earned $247,227.29.

First place Tamalpais High School still leads both offensive and defensive figures in Marin Athletic League basketball play and Nick Willard of Novato High remains on top of the scoring race, according to statistics compiled by the Independent-Journal.

Willard has scored 151 points in eight games for an 18.9 average to lead San Rafael's Rod Monti who has scored 159 points in nine games for a 17.7 average.

Tam has scored 496 points in nine games for a 55.1 average and has allowed only 380 points for a 42.2 average. San Rafael is runner-up in offensive figures with a 52.7 average and Marin Catholic is second-best in defensive statistics with a 43.9 average.

Injuns Can Cinch Title Tie Tonight

A victory for the Tamalpais High School cagers tonight will insure them at least a tie for the championship of the Marin Athletic League basketball campaign.

The Tam Indians will be firing their big guns against Novato High School in the Tamalpais gym in the feature event of the MCAL. In other games, Redwood plays at Drake and Terra Linda hosts Marin Catholic.

The varsity tilts will follow the B team games which start at 7 p.m. And in the Class B race, Drake (8-1) could wrap up at least a tie in the race with a win over Redwood.

Tam may be able to duplicate its feat in 1959 of going all the way through the season undefeated with three more victories. The Indians now hold a 9-0 record in league competition.

Tam shouldn't have much trouble with its foe tonight, as Novato has only won two games in the league season while dropping six. But one can never be certain in this game of basketball.

TOP SCORER

Tam's guards Warren Domino and Art Ford, forwards Ellis Williams and Jim Durbin and center Art Foster should be just too much for the Hornets, headed by the league's leading scorer, Nick Willard who has scored 151 points for an average of 18.9.

The Redwood-Drake battle will be an important game for both teams as Redwood (3-5) trails Drake (5-4) by one and one-half games.

Terra Linda will be going after its first win when the Trojans take on Marin Catholic. The Wildcats (6-2) are the only team in contention for the championship but it's a real long shot bet.

Stanford, Cal Go At It This Weekend

Stanford, locked in a battle with Washington for leadership in the Big Six basketball race, puts its chances on the line tonight and tomorrow in games with ancient rival California.

The Indians are 4-2 and Washington 6-3 in conference action. The Huskies host USC tomorrow night in their only weekend contest.

Stanford is the home team tonight against the Bears, who are 2-4 in conference play. Tomorrow night the scene shifts to Berkeley.

The West Coast Athletic Conference is idle tonight, but presents a lulu tomorrow night when the unbeaten quintets of USF and St. Mary's have at it.

In games last night, San Jose State was pretty well knocked out of the WCAC race when Loyola dumped the Spartans 56-48 at Los Angeles.

TUSCON, Ariz. (AP) — Jim Ferrier and Don January were tied for first with 7-under-par 65s as the Tucson Open Golf Tournament swung into second-round play today.

Ferrier's 33-32—65 held up until January brought in his 31-34—65 on the par-72 49ers Country Club course.

Butch Baird had a 67 and was closest to the co-leaders.

Bunched at 68 were Al Geiberger, Harold Kneece, Red Baxter Jr., Jerry Steelsmith and Al Mengert. Fourteen others had 69s.

Jack Nicklaus, the nation's third leading money winner and pre-tourney favorite, was well back with a 76.

Nicklaus, bothered by bursitis in his left hip, belted two balls out of bounds on his second hole, for a disastrous eight and couldn't recover.

Doc Says Bridges Should Be Ready To Pitch In A Month

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—New York Yankee relief ace Marshall Bridges, shot in the leg by a 21year-old woman in an Elks Club bar, may be ready to pitch by the opening day of the baseball season.

Dr. George Rahilly, a surgeon and bone specialist, said no surgery was planned for Bridges, still in a Fort Lauderdale hospital, and the pitcher should be able to return to practice in about a month.

The pitcher was shot in the left leg Wednesday night by a woman identified by police as Carrie Lee Raysor, as they sat next to each other in a club.

Yankee manager Ralph Houk said there would be no disciplinary action against Bridges.

If Bridges can begin working out in a month, he will probably be ready when the Yankees open April 9 against the Kansas City Athletics. At first it was feared he would miss two months.

Dr. Rahilly said the .25 caliber slug chipped a bone and damaged muscles between the ankle and the knee, but said he did not consider it a serious injury.

Bridges, 31-year-old father of three from Jackson, Miss., had an 8-4 record for the Yanks in 52 games last season and played a big part in the pennant drive.

Police officers quoted Miss Raysor as saying Bridges "put his arm around me and pulled me over and I didn't like that kind of mugging."

Cora Davis, a barmaid, was quoted by police as saying Bridges "was trying to kiss the woman just before the shooting."

PROUD OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Vicki Pearson is very proud of her husband, Kent —and with good reason. Kent gave one of his kidneys to his brother, Kenneth. Kenneth had been afflicted with a diseased kidney since early childhood. The transplanting operation became necessary when Kenneth's condition worsened during the past six months. Officials at Colorado General Hospital in Denver say the 20-year-old twins are "getting along just fine." (UPI Wirephoto)

Inmate Art For City Of Hope

Inmates of San Quentin prison will donate their art and craft work for the third year for sale in the City of Hope annual Town Fair, funds from which are used for treatment and research of catastrophic diseases.

The fair will be held March 15 through 18 at the San Francisco National Guard Armory at 14th and Mission streets.

The prison artists and craftsmen, according to Warden Fred R. Dickson, would have commanded substantial prices for their work by selling it through the prison hobby shop instead of giving it to charity.

Mrs. Betty Seiler, proprietor of La Petite Doggie Salon at 2122 Fourth Street, San Rafael, yesterday donated the receipts from clipping canine clients to the Marin County Humane Society. Mrs. Seiler was assisted by her mother, Billy Clements, who donated her services.

Building Starts At Higher Rate

Marin County's construction industry started 1963 at a higher than average rate as permits for $5,786,607 worth of building permits were issued for the month of January.

The amount was nearly 30 per cent higher than the $4,456,317 in permits issued in January, 1962.

Residential construction permits last month totaled 120 units valued at $1,402,510 in the unincorporated area and 171 units worth $3,066,939 in the cities.

Totals of all permits were 174 valued at $1,788,268 in the county area and 317 valued at $3,998,339 in the cities.

The largest single permit was issued to the Jon-Ken Construction Co. for 39 single family dwellings, valued at $779,118, in Terra Linda Valley. This helped push San Rafael's monthly total to $2,235,713.

Other large permits were issued to First of California Mortgage Co. for a $229,000 office building in San Rafael; a 30-unit apartment in Terra Linda for $346,350, and a convalescent hospital in Kentfield for $175,000.

Novato School Board Election Battle Assured

A battle for the three vacancies in the April 16 election to the Novato Unified School District board was assured yesterday with the filing of Roy E. Butler, supervisor of academic instruction at San Quentin Prison, as a candidate.

Two of the incumbents, Mrs. Leonora Dougherty of 2211 Center Road and Earl G. Marshall of 1800 Marion Avenue, had already filed as had Gordon M. Leathers of 1404 Monte Maria Avenue. Dr. Joseph Sereda, the incumbent chairman, hasn't yet filed to succeed himself.

Butler, 56, lives with his wife Terry and 13-year-old daughter Janette at 2044 Carolyn Way. Born at Dinuba, Tulare County, he has taught in San Francisco high schools and elsewhere. He was formerly in education prison work in California State Prison at Soledad.

The Butlers have lived in Novato for nearly five years.

Mill Valley Planners Suggest Dumping Jet

The Mill Valley Planning Commission Wednesday night recommended to the city council that the surplus jet airplane in Boyle Park be removed for esthetic reasons. This stand was a support of the recommendation made by the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee.

The jet, placed in the park last year as a gift from the Mill Valley American Legion, is reported to be receiving complaints from neighbors that it is dangerous as a toy since one of its windshields has been broken and it needs other repairs. The plane came from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Commissioners recommended for the second time to the city council that the council accept a plan that minimum area for apartments be 1,500 square feet in Lytton Square, 2,500 square feet in Enchanted Knolls, Gomez Way, the south side of Miller Avenue and on slopes in Lytton Square area which average 10 per cent. Minimums recommended for East Blithedale and Dell Street, Sunnyside and Buena Vista avenues and the north side of Miller are recommended to be 2,000 square feet.

The council had asked the commission to re-study the minimums, recommending 1,500 square feet in Lytton Square and 2,500 square feet elsewhere in the city.

The planning commission's plan was arrived at by Mrs. Elizabeth Rodman and Mrs. George Gustafson.

Commissioner Rodric L. Robinson suggested that the council read the Rodman-Gustafson report.

The commission suggested to council that a joint council-commission meeting be held March 2 to discuss zoning map amendments, said Robinson.

Five consultants in the field of personal development and the new problems confronting today's working woman will address the conference Redwood Empire District Business and Professional Women's clubs are sponsoring Feb. 23 at the Santa Rosa Junior College, Mrs. Margaret Hedden, San Rafael conference chairman, said.

Expected to attract about 300 or more persons, the conference is open to all interested women, she said, and is offered through the cooperation of the school's administrative staff.

Conference headquarters will be in the Luther Burbank Memorial auditorium, with lunch included in the registration fee.

Setting the conference pace will be Miss Eden Ryl, authority on charm, human relations, and the art of communications. Miss Ryl is owner and founder of a personnel consultants firm in Los Angeles.

"The Changing Role of Woman in Our Changing Society," her topic for the morning seminar, is also the conference theme, Mrs. Hedden said.

Backing up the keynote speaker in the afternoon session will be a panel of four, including Stary Gange, nationally known lecturer, business administrator and rancher.

Others on the panel are Mrs. Carmelita Herbage, state staff supervisor, placement process, California State Employment Service; Mrs. Margaret Trussell, dean of women, Santa Rosa Junior College; and Mrs. Dorothy Ford, business consultant with the Los Angeles schools and second vice president, national BPWC.

Topics to be considered are "The Mature Woman in the Labor Force, Tomorrow Will Be a Busy Day, What's New About Women Workers, and Today's Woman—Tomorrow's World."

Conference arrangements may be made with Mrs. Hedden, 1221 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Members of the Marin County Business and Professional Women's Club attending will include Mesdames Viola Gottschalk, president of the Marin club; Helen Krause, district parliamentarian; Lee Miller, Olive Lienhard and Elsie Mazzini.

She will present a check for $5,250 to the City of Hope for cancer research in Los Angeles Feb. 20 and on Feb. 21 she will present a check for cancer research in San Francisco.

Cancer research is high in priority of projects for the auxiliaries this year, Mrs. Grover C. Owen, publicity chairman for the Donald V. Westlund Auxiliary, said.

Mrs. Tice has just returned from a trip to Chulwon, Korea, a village adopted by the VFW auxiliaries several years ago. The Donald V. Westlund auxiliary is contributing to the new house fund for the village so that the refugees can build houses.

SETTING EXAMPLE . . .

No Smoking Facts Convince Principal

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

So intensive and convincing has the non-smoking campaign at Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School been that the principal himself, Dominic Bobbio, has stopped smoking.

Similarly affected were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Locey. Mrs. Locey is health chairman for the P-TA, which is conducting the campaign in conjunction with the school staff.

Bobbio was the first convert as a result of an American Cancer Society film shown the 7th and 8th graders last year in connection with a talk by Dr. Gerald Hill, president of the Marin Branch of the Society.

SAID BOBBIO, "I was tremendously impressed both with the statistics quoted and the photographs shown on the relationship not only between smoking and death from lung cancer but on smoking and aggravation of other diseases and deaths.

"These are among the statistics that convinced me."

"Lung cancer death rates are 10 times as high among those with a history of regular cigarette smoking as among those who have never smoked. Among two-pack-a-day smokers the rate is more than 60 times as high.

"Those who have given up smoking have a lower risk of death; those once smoking a pack or more a day, who have given up smoking for at least one year, have a death rate less than half that of those who have continued.

"OVER-ALL DEATH rates from a number of causes—and particularly cancer and coronary heart disease — rise with the number of cigarettes smoked. Among those who smoke two packs a day the death rate is 123 per cent higher than among those who do not smoke."

Following the showing of the film the P-TA and school staff decided to find out how prevalent smoking was among the 600 students, and on Jan. 1 last year distributed a Cancer Society questionnaire to a sampling of 100 7th and 8th grade boys and girls.

Results showed that at least 5 per cent smoked regularly at least one day a week.

In the 8th grade 8 per cent and in the 7th 2 per cent admitted smoking a half a pack or more cigarettes just about every day. And the figures showed that 10 per cent in the 8th grade and 7 per cent in the 7th grade smoked just about every day but less than half a pack a day.

"WE WISH TO show the Cancer Society film to every child who enters the school," said Mrs. Locey, "and right now we are trying to persuade the supermarkets not to have cigarettes available at the check stands where they are easy to steal, for we know that is what is happening."

Meanwhile perhaps the examples of their elders will speak louder than words to Edna Maguire students.

DOMINIC BOBBIO, principal of Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School, who was the first convert in the P-TA and school sponsored non-smoking campaign.

THE AMERICAN WOMAN

Fifteen And 45 Critical Ages

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fifteen and 45 are two critical ages for the American woman. At 15 she begins to worry about whether she will get a husband. At 45 she starts worrying about whether she is losing her looks and her husband.

The U.S. Census Bureau has put into cold figures the odds in the matrimonial sweepstakes. Without carrying every figure to the last decimal point, here is the morning line on marriage prospects for American women:

UNTIL SHE REACHES age 24 the odds are nine to one in favor of her getting married eventually. At 25 and 26 they drop to a little better than seven to one. Then they decline until age 31 when it becomes a fifty-fifty bet. At 40 the odds fall to four to one against her and at age 50 they are almost 16 to one.

The magic age seems to be 23. Any American girl reaching that age can be cheered by the fact that she has one chance in five to be married within a year. In 10 years her chances will drop to about seven in 100.

The impulsive things that women write and say support the cold statistics. Almost every American newspaper carries letters seeking counsel and advice, and 80 per cent of them come from women. Miss Mollie Mayfield of the United Feature Syndicate gets about 12,000 letters a year from females and teen-age girls and women past 40 write a high percentage of them.

TEEN-AGERS, OF course, inquire about the guide-posts on the road to matrimony—how to dress, necking, steady dating, at what age to use cosmetics and how late to stay out at night. These are uncomplicated questions for the expert and easy to answer.

No so the problems posed by women in their forties or older. Fear supplants hope as the reason for writing a letter. The first wrinkle has been detected in the neck and the woman is beginning to experience mental and emotional disturbances. There may be a trivial pretext for writing the letter, but its underlying basis almost always deals with the real or fancied indifference of her husband. For every woman who writes a letter how many prefer to suffer in silence?

It would be misleading to imply that every American woman becomes a near-neurotic in her mid-forties, for as Miss Mayfield says: "The ones that are contented never write to me." But that is the age when women do start fighting hardest against the erosion of time as you can see by walking into a beauty parlor any time of day. Precise figures are hard to come by, but one expert made an educated guess that American women spend at least 2 billion dollars a year in beauty parlors and probably as much as 3 billion dollars.

OUT OF THIS over-riding fear of gray hair, sagging chin and lost waist-line there has emerged a sort of goddess whom many American women either envy or applaud. She is Mrs. Rudolf Sieber, married 39 years ago and now a grandmother, and for the purposes of her public appearances she uses the name, Marlene Dietrich.

Miss Dietrich is an actress-singer with a voice that will never cause her to be summoned to the Metropolitan Opera and an acting range that sometimes seems to be limited to the provocative arching of an eyebrow. Yet she is in constant demand for appearances all over the United States, Europe and South America, and the fact of the matter seems to be that she is making a career by growing old gracefully. Her face is unlined, her figure has the approximate proportions it did 30 years ago, her classic legs are international institutions and she faces the dread age of 60 and sell-out audiences in Las Vegas, London and Paris with the same calm confidence.

HER SECRET IS not easy to come by. Thousands of words have been written about her and she has recently put out a book of her own. Nowhere is there a recipe or formula to produce instant agelessness, and the suspicion must be entertained that Miss Dietrich does not know the reason for her own success. She does say that she has banished envy, cynicism and discontent ("no one can help a discontented woman"). She seems to be equally happy cooking a wiener schnitzel, taking her granddaughter for a walk or singing "Falling in Love Again" in a blue spotlight.

A small percentage of American women don't worry about losing a husband because they never had one. A recent study of college women of the class of 1945 showed that out of each 100 here were 88 married, four widowed, separated, or divorced and eight who had never married. For the eight, according to a unanimous verdict of experts, the problem is loneliness. Many of them live with their parents and when mother and father die they are adrift. The problem is best illustrated by a poignant letter written by a 50-year-old woman who was left alone by her mother's death:

"I FEEL SO alone and my problem is how to adjust myself and get back into social circulation. Most of the friends of my age are married, have children and grandchildren and are busy with lives of their own.

"My church, in a changing neighborhood, has a social club but it is only for 18 to 30-year-olds which lets me out. I've bought a few clothes and some inexpensive furniture to brighten up the apartment. So how does one get off the shelf and back into the world? I have a job but my co-workers are all married and leading busy lives. My activities consist of going to work, to the grocery store and back home to do chores or listen to TV. Saturdays and Sundays seem endless."

Melancholy Pleasure Taken In Recording Decline Of The Male

I take melancholy pleasure in recording the decline of the American male. Gentlemen, we aren't the men our fathers were. Read this, and weep.

Our dads were bosses in their homes. Their word was law. Our mothers postponed decisions until they got home, then had their husbands decide. But now? We're away so long that our wives can't wait; they have to barge ahead. When we do get home we're too tired to think clearly anyway, so we say, "Yes, m'dear," and let it go at that. Right?

Our fathers wrote the checks and spent the money. But what do we do? We give our wives our paychecks, never see our money and usually live on allowances. In fact we think we're lucky if we even are consulted about family expenditure.

Compared with women we men are declining physically. We catch the flu quicker, as well as nearly all other diseases. We can't take extreme heat or cold as well as our ladies do. We can't stand fatigue as well as they can. We can't survive starvation as well as they can either. Life really gets lethal when we're in our 40s and 50s. We work too hard and eat too much; we die too young. Our wives will be widows from 6 to 8 or 9 years, on the average, but we keep our life insurance paid up, so they won't go hungry then.

Recently I read about some new research into hens and roosters. Guess what? It's the same sad story for roosters. Did you know the hens eliminate radioactive poisons so fast that they're sure to survive nuclear war? But roosters won't. They'll die, even as you and I.

A critic said that American women have American men firmly pinned down by the ears. He wonders how our race survives. Good question, isn't it?

Marin MAGAZINE

Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

Spring isn't far away, and one of its harbingers is the arrival of the new furniture and home furnishings in Marin County's fine stores and decorator shops. As is its custom, the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine will publish a special supplement tomorrow telling you about the new furniture and decorator trends. One advance tip: There's a decided "Mediterranean" trend this spring.

Housewife and mother of three children, Mrs. Beverly Bastian is nevertheless a woman who has found time to devote to a number of worthy Tiburon Peninsula causes. Southern Marin's model nursery school program is just one example. In tomorrow's Marin Magazine, I-J reporter Corena Green will tell you more about the many contributions this busy Belvedere woman has made to her community.

A crop planted this winter in West Marin will not be harvested until 1968. But when it is cut, it will add joy and warmth to scores of Bay Area homes. It is the largest Christmas tree farm yet to be planted in Marin. Don Keown, editor of the I-J Marin Magazine, tells you about the men who planted this unusual crop, their problems and their plans for the future in a special picture story tomorrow.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

For Camera Fans

Camera fans who've been hankering for a faster draw now can have it with a new, doughnut-shaped five-shooter flashgun that fits on the camera accessory shoe. It holds up to five bulbs in a spring-operated revolving magazine.

Hand That Rocks The Cradle Has Now Taken To The Rudder

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Feminine whims, weather vanes to designers of everything from packaging to automobiles, now are going to sea.

Since the hand that rocks the cradle has taken to the rudder. Boat makers are paying careful attention to such non-nautical soundings as the latest color and style trends, new kitchen designs and homemaking efficiency studies.

THE INFLUENCE of females afloat was cited in an interview with W. Dorwin Teague, who heads an industrial designers' firm.

The attention to women, he claims, is one reason the 7-million-dollar boat industry has nearly doubled in the last 10 years.

"All the wives, daughters and sweethearts are following their men to sea — and loving it," he said.

Teague said the biggest complaint from the captain's mate so far has been the lack of well-planned living areas in the cabin.

AS A RESULT, manufacturers are adapting the same kind of tests used by kitchen planners to determine the best arrangement of sleeping, galley, eating space and washroom.

"Hideaway stoves and adequate sized bunks, sliding vanity tops in galleys, touch latches on cabinets, more efficient lighting, water-proof floor coverings are among the recent innovations that are helping to make boat interiors more attractive and more comfortable," Teague said.

To distaff members who may be timid about their first sortie at sea, Teague advises — "Be prepared."

"SAILING IS no more hazardous than housework, and a good deal less so than driving," he said.

Teague advised the novice sailing families to attend power squadron class and live up to the rules.

As for fashion? He tackled the subject this way:

"The sailing costumes in fashion magazines amuse me most. Jackets made of signal flags, matching tops and bottoms, tight pants and so on.

"I would like to suggest that the editors pay a visit sometime to a briefing session just before a big ocean race. Present there are the elite of sailing, male and female. And what are they wearing?

"RUMPLED CHINOS and dungarees, ravelled white shirts, duckbilled caps and boat shoes."

'Asphalt Jungle' Forcing Cattle From California

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Unfavorable taxes and the spreading "asphalt jungle" are driving commercial cattlemen from California into Nevada, Oregon and Utah, thec hairman of the Bureau of Land Management's California advisory board declared yesterday.

Brunel Christensen of Likely told a meeting of the board that the tax situation was forcing the cattlemen to look toward other Western states where taxes are lower.

He added that the constant expansion of California land used for such things as freeways and commercial pursuits left the commercial cattle raisers no choice but to seek states with more room and less "asphalt jungle."

10—Help Wanted

We're Searching The San Rafael Area For A Man...

Frankly, it may take months to find him. But we're willing to wait . . . the opportunity is that important.

Here's a quick "profile" of the person we're looking for. Chances are he's between 28 and 40. Education . . . college or equivalent. In all likelihood, he's now in a junior-executive position . . well liked . . . making good progress. But he has a problem. He knows he's capable of doing better . . . feels "trapped" by a salary structure which is good, but not good enough.

If you fit this general description, we'd be happy to talk to you about this most important opening in our organization. It may require several interviews . . . will certainly require exhaustive tests. But should you turn out to be the man we are looking for . . . we can promise it will be well worth your time and trouble. Minimum starting salary $500.

To pursue the matter further, write us a letter outlining your business experience, age, marital status. (If you prefer, phone GL 4-0103).

We'll contact you and arrange a meeting.

ODE TO THE BUYER

Some like them small,
Others immense.

Some like them open,
Others with fence.

Some like a view
Or a home that's new.

For some hills and trees
For others a breeze.

A stately maybeck
Or a complete wreck.

Of modern design,
Or older is fine.

A handsome old place
Just loaded with space.

Or a rambling style
Away a mile.

Close in for some
For easy commute.

Others will come
From afar with a toot.

Acres of land
Or a home on the sand

A ranch or a lot
Cool weather or hot.

A return on your money
To make your life sunny.

We have all of these
And many more

So please do call
Or come to our door.

All city slickers
And country hicks

Muir Beach Water Line Requested

The Marin Municipal Water District board Wednesday referred a request from the Muir Beach Community Services District board for a hookup to the water district's water system to general manager William Seeger for study.

Seeger said, "We get this request about every two years." Residents of Muir Beach have complained about the rusty, salty taste of their drinking water which they now have to haul from other places.

The water district board also approved six pipeline extensions, the largest being for $73,000 to 134 lots in Lucas Valley Unit No. 4. Roberts and Brune of Redwood City were low bidders for $15,392.50 on copper fittings for general maintenance work.

Low bidder for cast iron fittings was Tyler Pipe and Foundry of Texas for $3,167.28 and $5,608 for gate valves by Fay-Holbrook of the East Bay.

Ross Kiwanis Fete Scouts

Ross Valley Kiwanis Club Wednesday celebrated Boy Scout Week with a luncheon at the Woodlands restaurant in Kentfield for troop and post 69.

The troop won a prize for its Scout Week window display at Kaufman's Men's Store in San Anselmo.

MARIN FILM FARE

Laugh-Packed 'Son Of Flubber' Now Showing At Rafael Theater

By LES DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

"Son of Flubber," Walt Disney's sequel to his hilarious "Absent Minded Professor," is now showing.

For the benefit of the uninitiated, flubber means flying rubber, the invention of Prof. Fred MacMurray. His inventions in this film wreak even more havoc than the gravity-defying flubber and the flying Model-T of his early adventures.

Striving to perfect a rain-making device using residue from the bottom of his flubber barrel, Fred becomes the laughing stock of the town when his efforts backfire. His wife, Nancy Olson, leaves him when an old flame—Joanna Moore—re-enters his life.

But all ends well and Fred becomes the town's hero when he accidentally revitalizes the countryside with his "dry rain" and wins the championship for the home team with a flubber-gassed football suit.

The cast is loaded with talent: Keenan Wynn, Tommy Kirk, Leon Ames, Ed Wynn, Charlie Ruggles, Ken Murray and Stu Erwin.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Jerry Lewis romps again in "It's Only Money," come Sunday.

The hare-brained comedian plays a TV repairman who has a yen to be a private detective. His first case is to find the heir to an electronics fortune. It turns out to be—you guessed it—Lewis himself.

There's just enough plot to provide foundation for the gags, and not so much that it's burdensome. Zachary Scott and Joan O'Brien lend support.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Opening Sunday is "Term of Trial," a British import starring Laurence Olivier, Simone Signoret, Terence Stamp ("Billy Budd"), Sarah Miles and Hugh Griffith.

Olivier plays a lowly school teacher. He is chided and goaded by his neurotic wife, who wants him to bring home more money. The ruffians in his class torment him unmercifully.

His favorite pupil, Miss Miles, whom he privately coaches after school, develops a crush on him. When he rejects her, the girl viciously accuses him of molesting her. A nasty lawsuit follows.

This is a sordid story, depicting England at its dreariest. But the excellent performances by a brilliant cast make it well worth your time.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Showing tomorrow and Sunday are "The Brink of Life" and "The Magician."

The former is the story of one night in a tormented corner of a hospital maternity ward. The focus is on three women: Ingrid Thulin, Bibi Andersson and Eva Dahlbeck. The question explored is why does life chose some women for child-bearing and leave others childless.

"The Magician" is at once macabre, comic and mystical, the story of an itinerant faith healer.

Showing Monday and Tuesday will be "The Virgin Spring" and "The Devil's Eye."

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Sons and Lovers" was probably D. H. Lawrence's greatest work, a fervent protest against the debasing life of the British mining towns.

It's showing through Sunday at the little peninsula theater, which consistently books for adults.

Two stunning performances show up in this British movie: Trevor Howard as the aging miner turned cruel by resentment against his lot, yet capable of fleeting tenderness and laughter; Wendy Hiller as the martyr wife struggling with her brood.

Dean Stockwell appears as Paul, whom the doting mother is determined to free from the family's grim state. Mary Ure plays the sensual Clara, the town's tarnished beauty.

Co-featured is "Rome Adventure."

101 DRIVE-IN

"Strangers When We Meet"—playing tonight and tomorrow—is an account of how two people drift into an affair in a plush suburb.

The participants are Kirk Douglas, as an architect somewhat bored with his wife, Barbara Rush, and Kim Novak, a beauty wed to a rather cold fish.

Douglas is working on a house for an author (Ernie Kovacs), and as the home rises, so does the romance. When the place is nearly finished it's time for a decision; Douglas can break up his home or wreck Miss Novak's dreams.

For Adults.

Co-featured is "Alcatraz Island."

MOTOR MOVIES

It's Jerry Lewis time tonight and tomorrow, bringing back the funnyman's "Sad Sack" and "The Delicate Delinquent."

Lewis plays the Army private of World War II who's in trouble from training to North Africa in "Sad Sack."

In "Delicate Delinquent" Jerry plays a slum boy who's just not one of the gang. Because they refuse to accept him, he sets his sights on being a cop, winds up in a mixed-up sort of triumph over them.

NOVATO THEATER

A high-powered cast in a melodrama focusing around euthanasia (mercy killing) arrives Sunday in "I Thank a Fool."

Susan Hayward stars with British actor Peter Finch and Diane Cilento, the Australian beauty, in a psychological drama with overtones of such pictures as "Rebecca" and "Wuthering Heights."

Miss Hayward plays a Canadian doctor who killed her incurably ill lover, a professor, with an overdose of a drug. We're never really sure whether the action was deliberate, but nevertheless she goes to prison.

When she gets out, she runs into Peter Finch, more trouble and more mystery.

LARK THEATER

"Divorce—Italian Style" carries on its campaign of laughter, now in its fifth week.

The picture is a spoof of Italian law—which permits no divorces. Since couples seeking to shed marriage partners must thus seek other means, this is a funny little story of wife-killing.

Pure delight for adults.

Class Of 'Cabbages' Learn French

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"Here we go, Choux," William Tasca told his pupils in the seventh grade French class at Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School. "All these are imaginary characters. Use your imaginations!"

Tasca, one-eighth French himself, is representative of the spirit in which the newly-launched language program is being handled. He makes the pupils work; he makes them not want to forget; he makes them enjoy learning.

"Un, un, un," said one girl in the class, describing the number of the street on which she lives. "111 Rue Meadow," said she.

"Un, un, un, un, un!" repeated Tasca, adding two more "un's." The class does the same with words such as "huit," for eight, Tasca reported, which sounds like "tweet, tweet, tweet" of a bird. The youngsters or choux (cabbages) as Tasca calls them, like this. "It makes learning more fun and, oddly enough, they don't forget 'un' and 'huit'."

The method used by Tasca and two other language teachers at the school, Janet Spars and Margaret Gustafson, is called "oral-aural" or "listen-speak."

Not new, it is an adaption for children of the system used by Army language schools in World War II. But it is new, as is the foreign language itself, to the eight schools in the Mill Valley School District.

Basically, it differs from the traditional method in that children learn the language by repeating what they hear: the same manner in which they learned their first language, English. Textbooks are used but they are incidental. Tapes and tape recorders are also used.

"I think it is the best," Tasca said of the method. He was taught French in this "conversational" manner but learned Spanish and Latin the traditional way. "I was bored all the time with Spanish and Latin and, when finished, I couldn't speak it," said he. This was not true of French.

Tasca, whose main field is Spanish and who would like to teach history, also keeps pupils alert by occasionally mispronouncing French as if it were English. For example, he may say, "Attention, seal plate" for "Attention s'il vous plait.'

"We don't require them to memorize," said the teacher. "We teach them to associate one idea with another."

Edna Maguire Principal Dominic Bobbio, in charge of the language program for the district, says: "I think it (the oral-aural) holds much promise. The old method didn't produce linguists. Maybe this one will."

Bobbio was in France and Italy in World War II, went places because he knew Italian and French, and finds language "a boon."

"We are concerned that there may be problems when the 300 Edna Maguire students move to Tamalpais High School this fall," Bobbio said. "We have already sat down with the high school people." There are such questions at Tamalpais as "Will we need to hire more Spanish teachers? Will pupils want to take German?"

Bobbio said roughly half of the Mill Valley pupils take Spanish, half French, as per their choice.

State legislation requires foreign language be taken by all students from sixth grade on beginning in 1965.

Seventh and eighth graders at Edna Maguire get language three times a week; fifth and sixth graders, twice a week. Fourth graders in Mill Valley schools are getting a taste of language through television.

We visited Madame Gustofson's class, which was taking a test. We visited Madama Spar's class; she was using the tape recorder. First she ran the recorder for the pupils to listen (aural). Then she requested pupils to repeat the lesson, one student being Madame Hubert, the other Monsieur, from their textbooks.

"Mimi, Nicolas, Andre," she called them, using their French equivalent of American names.

As a bystander who had suffered through many French classes, we felt the cabbages were doing very well.

Belvedere Fire Unit To Install

New officers will be installed Saturday night when the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department holds its annual wives dinner in the newly remodeled firehouse.

This will be the first official function in the remodeled building. The volunteers have been refinishing and furnishing the expanded space in the ready room which is used for social events, business meetings and training.

New officers are William McLean, president; Elmer Fraass, vice president; Jerry Gillin, secretary, and David Imrie, treasurer.

Guest of honor will be Mayor Robert P. Watkins, City Mgr. Britton Rey, Fire Commissioner John H. Flint, Police Chief William S. Woodington, and their wives.

'Big Event' In A Mother's Life Is Becoming An American Citizen

Eveline L. Freitas, native of Canada, mother of four children and a Marinwood resident for six years, decided she was "missing quite a lot" by not being a United States citizen.

It was a big event in her life last week when she became a new citizen.

"I never really felt like a foreigner," Mrs. Freitas said. "But it was odd all the same not to be able to vote and to have to register as a foreigner each year."

She was born in Quebec and spent her childhood in the small town of Kenogami in the northern part of the province.

"My father was English and my mother was French," she said. "When I was 13, we moved to Los Angeles. Later, my parents became naturalized and my two sisters, who were under 16, automatically became citizens. But I was 17 at that time, and I didn't know until much later that I had to become a citizen on my own.

For a long time I just assumed I was a citizen."

Mrs. Freitas decided last year to enroll in a citizenship class at San Rafael High School. "It was really a wonderful way to learn about the Constitution, national and state government and current events as well," she said. "Maybe I thought I was an American, but I found out a lot I didn't know."

She and her husband, Elliot E. Freitas, a chemical engineer in San Francisco, have lived at 530 Quietwood Drive in Marinwood since 1957. They have four children, Karen, 8, Mark, 6, Lynne, 5, and Teresa, 1.

"They're all Americans, of course," Mrs. Freitas added.
